Media Will Call

Georgia Tech Ticket Office, corner of Techwood Drive and Bobby Dodd Way.

Media Parking

A limited number of media parking spaces at various lots on campus are available. Please include parking requests along with credentials requests. The majority of media parking is located in Klaus or at the Student Center.

THE PRESSBOX

Location

Located in the West Stands of Bobby Dodd Stadium, accessible via Gate 1 or Gate 4.

Wireless

Wireless internet access is available in the pressbox. To gain access, click on "Bobby Dodd". No passcode needed.

Live Statistics

Live stats (Gametracker) available via RamblinWreck.com.

Dining

A media meal will be served on Level 4 of the press box prior to every home game. Beginning this year, there will be a charge of $5. Following each game, pizza will be available to media members.

WEEKLY PRESS CONFERENCE

Paul Johnson will meet with the media every Tuesday beginning at 11:40 a.m. from August 26-November 25 with three exceptions. Press conferences will be held Mondays on September 7 and 14 (the week of Thursday night games). There will be no press conference November 17, the week of an open date.

Johnson's weekly press conferences are held in the Goldsmith Conference Room (located in the Edge Building). No players will be available at that time. Media are welcomed to dine in the GTAA dining hall following the press conference.

INTERVIEWS

Head Coach Paul Johnson is available to the media at the following times:

- Following every practice, with the exception of the day prior to a game.
- Following every game.
- Weekly press conferences (see above).
- Weekly ACC Coaches Teleconference, every Wednesday (see schedule on page five).
- At his weekly radio show, Wednesday's 7-8 p.m. at Fox Sports Grill in Atlantic Station.
- All other interviews should be requested to Dean Buchan at least 24 hours in advance. Most of these interviews will take place between 1 and 2 p.m.

Yellow Jacket players are available after every practice Monday through Wednesday (after every practice, regardless of day, in August). All player requests must be made to Dean Buchan or Mike Huff before practice concludes. Players who do not practice will not be available. Players are also available after every game upon request.

COVERING PRACTICE

Practices during the season are closed, although the first 20-30 minutes are open to media wanting to shoot video. Paul Johnson and requested players will meet with the media on Callaway Plaza, located on the North side of Bobby Dodd Stadium.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following home games, Paul Johnson and requested players are available in the Goldsmith Conference Room following a cooling-down period. A member of the Georgia Tech sports information staff will take requests for players in the fourth quarter. The visiting team will hold its press conference on the South end of the stadium, in the Georgia Tech weight room.

Following road games, Johnson and requested players will be available following a cooling-down period at a site determined by the home team. Please make your requests for Yellow Jacket players to Dean Buchan or Mike Huff prior to the conclusion of the game.

NFL SCOUTS

NFL scouts can receive credentials and access to the pressbox. The written (or e-mail) request must be made at least two weeks in advance to Mike Stamus (mstamus@athletics.gatech.edu). No parking pass is provided to scouts. Seats are assigned on a space-available basis.

DIRECTIONS

From I-85 North or Hartsfield-Jackson International Airport: Get on I-85 North for 12 miles. Exit on 10th Street. Go left to Fowler Street and take a left.

From I-85 South: Go South to North Avenue/Georgia Tech exit, take right onto North Avenue, take right on Techwood Drive.

Yellow Jackets On The Air

GEORGIA TECH/ISP SPORTS RADIO NETWORK

Wes Durham enters his 15th year as the play-by-play "Voice of the Yellow Jackets." A five-time Georgia Sportscaster of the Year, including 2007, and winner of the "Furman Bisher Award" from the Atlanta Sports Council in 2006, he also serves as Tech's Director of Broadcasting. Durham also is in his sixth year as the play-by-play voice of the NFL's Atlanta Falcons.

Durham is joined in the booth by former Ramblin Wreck and NFL quarterback Rick Strom, who returns for his fifth season.

Jeff Woolverton, one-half of the "Brandon and Woolvey" Show on 790AM, enters his second season as sideline reporter.

Miller Pope is the producer for the majority of Georgia Tech radio broadcasts.

Pregame coverage begins two hours before kickoff with "Yellow Jacket Countdown," featuring game previews, live guests and former players.

For a complete list of radio affiliates, visit Tech's official athletics website, RamblinWreck.com or contact ISP Sports at 404.365.9880.

Tech games are also available on XM Satellite Radio, Channels 191-193.

PAUL JOHNSON RADIO SHOW

Head coach Paul Johnson's weekly radio show airs Wednesdays from 7-8 p.m. (beginning Aug. 26), live from Fox Sports Grill in Atlantic Station.

The show, hosted by Wes Durham, is carried live locally on Tech's flagship station, "790 the Zone" (WGXI-AM), and WYAY-FM (106.7).

Johnson and Durham take phone call questions from fans and also break down each week's game.

For a list of affiliates carrying the Johnson radio show, visit the Tech website or contact ISP Sports.

GEORGIA TECH SPORTS TODAY

Georgia Tech Sports Today with Paul Johnson, co-hosted by Wes Durham, airs in Atlanta on Comcast Sports Southeast and other affiliates to be determined. The half-hour show is also available regionally on stations and cable systems throughout Georgia and the Southeast.

TELEVISION REPLAYS

Georgia Tech games are televised on a tape-delay basis on Comcast Sports Southeast (CSS). Each game airs the following Tuesday nights (check local listings) on CSS.

Yellow Jacket Notebook

Model Of Consistency

Georgia Tech has not suffered a losing season in conference play since 1994. The Yellow Jackets' last three coaches – Georgia O'Leary, Chan Gailey and Paul Johnson – never suffered a losing season in ACC play.

Nationally, only Florida has a longer active streak of finishing .500 or better in conference play.

Running Back U?

Georgia Tech has produced the last three ACC rushing champions – Tashard Choice in 2006 and 2007, and Jonathan Dwyer in 2008.

Three other schools have produced three consecutive ACC rushing leaders. Virginia from 1998 to 2000, North Carolina from 1975 to 1977, and Clemson from 1965 to 1967. No school has ever achieved the feat four straight years.

2008: Tech Surprised Everyone

Prior to the start of the 2008 season, SI.com projected Paul Johnson's first Yellow Jacket team to win just three games. Using SI.com's predictions, below is a list of college football's biggest surprise teams in 2008:

Team	Prediction	Record	Difference
►Georgia Tech	3-9	9-4	+6
Rice	4-8	10-3	+6
Akron	1-11	5-7	+4
Alabama	8-4	12-2	+4
Fla. International	1-11	5-7	+4
Louisiana-Lafayette	2-10	6-6	+4
Vanderbilt	3-9	7-6	+4
Air Force	5-7	8-5	+3
Kentucky	4-8	7-6	+2
Marshall	1-11	4-8	+3
Minnesota	4-8	7-6	+3
Oklahoma State	6-6	9-4	+3
Utah State	0-12	3-9	+3
Michigan State	7-5	9-3	+2

Top-Five Rushing Team

Georgia Tech ranked fourth nationally in rushing of offense in 2008 (273.2 yards per game). With nine starters back on offense, the Yellow Jackets have an opportunity to finish even higher in 2009. Below are the rushing offense leaders from 2008:

2008 NCAA Rushing Leaders

1. Navy	292.4 ypg
2. Oregon	280.1 ypg
3. Nevada	277.8 ypg
4. ►Georgia Tech	273.2 ypg
5. Tulsa	268.0 ypg

Tough Non-Conference Slate

Georgia Tech continues to schedule strong non-conference BCS opponents. The Yellow Jackets are in rare company in 2009 by playing two road games against BCS opponents (at Mississippi State and Vanderbilt).

Since 2004, Georgia Tech has played six non-conference opponents that were nationally-ranked at kickoff.

Swilling Going To The Hall Of Fame

Former Georgia Tech football All-American Pat Swilling, a leader of the Yellow Jackets' "Black Watch" defense of the mid-1980s, will be inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame.

Swilling played four seasons (1982-85) at Georgia Tech under coach Bill Curry. A first team All-American and first team All-ACC selection in 1985, Swilling owns Tech records for sacks in one game (7 vs. NC State in 1985) and sacks in one season (15 in 1985). He finished his career with 285 tackles, the second-most in school history, and 23 sacks, the fifth-most in Tech history.

From Gridiron To Microphone

Former Georgia Tech football players are making an impact in the world of sports radio and television.

Dorsey Levens, a Tech running back in 1992 and 1993, now serves as a color analyst for college football on ESPN2 and Comcast Sports Southeast (CSS).

Ryan Stewart, a Jacket defensive back from 1992 to 1995, is co-host of the nationally-syndicated radio show, The 2 Live Stews. Stewart and brother Doug also make regular appearances on ESPN2.

Rick Strom, a Tech quarterback from 1983 to 1987, continues to join Wes Durham in the booth as color analyst for the Georgia Tech/ISP Radio Network.

Former Yellow Jacket Nick Ferguson is former co-host of a weekly show in Denver. Tommy Luginbill, who played quarterback at Tech in 1994 before transferring, is a college football studio host for ESPN and ESPN2. Former Jacket quarterback Donnie Davis made his television debut last November as a color analyst for the Tech-Georgia game on CSS.

Tech's presence in the sports media is not limited to former football players.

Former basketball players Drew Barry (ESPN2), Jon Barry (ABC and ESPN), Dennis Scott (790AM), Brian Oliver (CSS) and John Salley (FSN) are all enjoying broadcasting careers. Former Tech golfer Charlie Rymer serves as an analyst for The Golf Channel.

GAME DAY AT TECH

One of college football's most electric atmospheres

Junior Jonathan Dwyer is one of the nation's top backs

- 3 Yellow Jackets have been named ACC Player of the Year – Dwyer, Calvin Johnson and Joe Hamilton.
- 3 consecutive years a Yellow Jacket has led the ACC in rushing – Tashard Choice in 2006 and 2007, and Dwyer in 2008.
- 3 players from Kell High School (Dwyer's prep alma mater) are on the Yellow Jacket roster.
- 4 carries of 60 yards or longer in 2008.
- 7 times last season Dwyer rushed for 100 yards in one half.
- 7 players in the history of the ACC rushed for more yards in one season than Dwyer last season (1,395 yards).
- 7.9 yards per carry by Dwyer in the fourth quarter of games last season.
- 10 career 100-yard rushing games, including nine in 2008.
- 21 rushing touchdowns in just two seasons, including 12 in 2008.
- 43 yards Dwyer ran for the game-winning fourth-quarter touchdown at Boston College last season.
- 88 yards on a touchdown run by Dwyer in 2008 vs. Mississippi State – the longest run from scrimmage in Tech history.
- 474 yards rushing over the final four games of the 2008 regular season (all four opponents were nationally-ranked).

"There wasn't a reason for me to go anywhere else but Georgia Tech. It's the best and easiest decision I ever made."

BIG NUMBERS

Offense piles up yardage and points

- ▶ In 2008, Georgia Tech led the ACC and ranked fourth nationally in rushing offense (273.2 yards per game). Only 18 of 119 FCS teams averaged more than 200 yards rushing.
- ▶ The Yellow Jackets led the ACC in total offense (372.5 ypg) and produced more than 300 yards of total offense in a game nine times.
- ▶ Tech scored 40 or more points in a game three times, including twice against nationally-ranked opponents (Miami and Georgia).
- ▶ Tech's average of 273.2 rushing yards per game was the fourth-highest average in school history and the highest since 1977.
- ▶ The Jackets have led the ACC in rushing in each of the past two seasons. Prior to 2007, the last time Tech led the league in rushing came in 1984.
- ▶ The Yellow Jackets' 472 yards rushing against Miami were their most ever in an ACC game and the most by an ACC team in 17 years.
- ▶ Tech rushed for four touchdowns vs. Florida State on Nov. 1. FSU entered the game having allowed just three rushing TDs all season.
- ▶ Tech, which passed for 230 yards against Duke, averaged 17.4 yards per completion.
- ▶ Georgia Tech produced 67 plays of 20 yards or more, including 10 plays that went for 50 yards or more.
- ▶ Twenty of the Yellow Jackets' 38 offensive touchdowns were scored on plays of 20 yards or more.
- ▶ Eight Tech TDs came on plays of 50 yards or more. Only one team in the FBS (Louisiana-Lafayette) had more touchdown plays of 50-plus yards.
- ▶ Tech had an 88-yard run (the longest rush in school history), an 88-yard pass play (the third-longest pass in Tech history), an 85-yard run (fourth-longest run in Tech history), a 79-yard pass (the 12th-longest pass in Tech history) and a 66-yard TD run (the longest run allowed by Florida State in 2008).
- ▶ The Jackets had 23 touchdown drives of three minutes or less, 16 of two minutes or less and 21 of five plays or less.
- ▶ The offense also demonstrated the ability to come from behind in 2008. Tech produced two fourth-quarter touchdown drives to erase deficits and earn ACC road victories – at Boston College and Clemson. At 13th-ranked Georgia, the Jackets erased a 26-12 halftime deficit.

DRIVE STOPPERS

Tech defense has reputation of 11 players flying to the football

Georgia Tech's defense wasn't supposed to be a big story in 2008 – not with a new defensive coordinator (Dave Wommack), a new scheme and eight new starters. However, the defense came up big all season long:

- ▶ The Yellow Jackets ranked 13th nationally in tackles-for-loss per game (7.31).
- ▶ Tech ranked 15th nationally in interceptions with 18. The previous season, the Yellow Jackets recorded just five interceptions.
- ▶ Tech led the nation in 2007 in sacks per game, and ranked tied for 18th nationally (2.62 pg) in 2008.
- ▶ The Yellow Jacket defense forced 29 opponent turnovers last season, ranking tied for 20th nationally in turnovers gained.
- ▶ Georgia Tech allowed just 120.3 rushing yards per game, ranking third in the ACC and 24th nationally in rushing defense.
- ▶ The Jackets ranked 25th nationally in total defense (313.5 ypg).
- ▶ Tech allowed 20.3 points per game, ranking 28th nationally in scoring defense.
- ▶ The Yellow Jackets ranked tied for 28th nationally in fourth-down defense as opponents converted 40 percent of fourth-down conversions.

- ▶ Nov. 20 against 23rd-ranked Miami, the defense held the Hurricanes to 105 yards rushing.
- ▶ On Nov. 1, Florida State was on the verge of scoring the go-ahead touchdown with less than a minute remaining when the Jackets forced a fumble near the goal line, preserving the win.
- ▶ In road wins at Boston College and Clemson, Tech held both teams scoreless in the fourth quarter, allowing for the Yellow Jackets to rally in the final quarter for a win.
- ▶ Oct. 18 at Clemson, Tech held the Tigers to just 51 yards rushing with no rushing attempts longer than eight yards.
- ▶ Tech held Duke to just 132 yards of total offense – the third-fewest yards allowed by a Yellow Jacket team in an ACC game – and recorded its first shutout since Nov. 11, 2006.
- ▶ Take away one 71-yard run by Mississippi State and Tech held the Bulldogs to 37 yards rushing on 27 carries.

THE ACC

One of the nation's strongest football conferences

- ▶ The ACC sent an NCAA record 10 teams to bowl games in 2008.
- ▶ Since becoming a 12-team league in 2005, ACC teams have participated in 34 bowl games in the ensuing four years. That is the most by any conference during that time. The next closest is the SEC with 32 bowl appearances.
- ▶ The ACC finished the 2008 regular season 41-17 against non-conference competition, a .707 winning percentage. That is the most non-conference victories in conference history and the 5th-best non-conference winning percentage in league history. That record includes a 17-14 mark (.548) against the Big East, Big Ten, Big 12, PAC-10, Southeastern Conferences and Notre Dame.
- ▶ The ACC had four teams ranked in the Top 25 of the final 2008 BCS Series Standings, led by Georgia Tech (15) and including Boston College (17), Florida State (24) and Virginia Tech (25).
- ▶ For the first time in its history, the ACC had nine teams with seven or more wins in 2008. The ACC had eight 7-win teams in 2005 and 2006. Also for the first time in its history, the ACC had seven teams with 8-wins or more. The previous best was six teams during the 2006 season.

Playing in nation's eighth-largest media market has its advantages

- ▶ The Yellow Jackets have appeared on ESPN's Thursday Night package more often than any team in the nation. Tech will play in an ESPN nationally-televised game for the 17th consecutive season in 2009.
- ▶ Georgia Tech will play on ESPN's Thursday Night broadcast twice in 2009 – Sept. 10 vs. Clemson and Sept. 17 at Miami.
- ▶ The ACC has participated in four of the most viewed football ESPN Bowl games in the history of the sports cable network.
- ▶ ESPN's Game Day crew of Chris Fowler, Lee Corso and Kirk Herbstreit will open their season at a game involving an ACC team for the fourth consecutive year in 2009.
- ▶ In the first three weeks of the 2009 season, 17 ACC games will be televised, including five nationally.
- ▶ Thirty-three of Georgia Tech's last 37 games have been televised regionally or nationally.
- ▶ A total of 4,380,784 fans saw ACC football games last season.
- ▶ The 2008 season marked the third time that ACC Football has topped the four-million fan mark in attendance.

THE NFL DRAFT

Four Jackets taken in 2009 draft, 12 selections over last three years

- ▶ Four Georgia Tech players were selected in the 2009 NFL draft. Defensive end Michael Johnson was taken in the third round by the Cincinnati Bengals, offensive tackle Andrew Gardner in the sixth round by the Miami Dolphins, defensive tackle Vance Walker in the seventh round by the Atlanta Falcons, and defensive tackle Darryl Richard in the seventh round by the New England Patriots. In addition, cornerback Jahi Word-Daniels signed as a free agent with San Francisco.
- ▶ Over the last four NFL drafts, 12 Yellow Jackets have been selected.
- ▶ Four of the top nine selections in the 2009 NFL draft came from the Atlantic Coast Conference.
- ▶ Five ACC players were taken in the first round of the 2009 draft and five more were selected in the second round. Overall, the ACC had nine of the first 45 players selected in the draft, the most of any Conference in the nation among the Top 45.
- ▶ Over the past four years the ACC has had 158 players drafted, second nationally only to the SEC (159).
- ▶ There were 254 players from the ACC on NFL rosters at the beginning of the 2008 season, second only to the SEC (259). Nine ACC teams rank in the top 27 in terms of number of players on NFL rosters.

FIRST CLASS DIGS

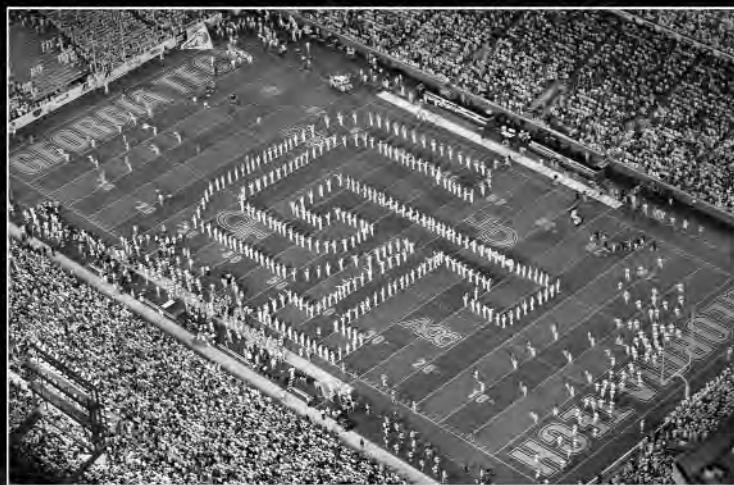

Georgia Tech's football facilities are top-notch

BOBBY DODD

Home of the Yellow Jackets since 1913

Georgia Tech's storied football facility has been a cornerstone of college football for more than 95 years. Cozily nestled amid Atlanta's skyscrapers, Bobby Dodd Stadium at Historic Grant Field is easily one of the nation's most unique settings for college football.

Originally built in 1913 by members of the Georgia Tech student body, Bobby Dodd Stadium at Historic Grant Field is the oldest on-campus stadium in NCAA Division I-A, but the venerable stadium has added another chapter to its storied history with a new look and an expanded capacity.

Completed in 2003, a two-year expansion and renovation raised capacity to 55,000 seats and added numerous amenities. The $75 million endeavor included the expansion and renovation of Bobby Dodd Stadium/Grant Field and the rebuilt Russ Chandler Stadium, Tech's 4,157-seat baseball facility.

The focal point of the project was the North end zone structure, which seats 15,678 in two levels and also includes 10 luxury suites and the Howard Ector Letterwinners Lounge. The complex also features the 7,000-square foot Kim King Football Locker Room, a 3,300-square foot players' lounge, the Jones Media Room, and coaches' offices that overlook Grant Field.

In addition to the rebuilt seating area, the new lower East structure features 20 executive suites as well as 2,040 chair-backed club seats between the 25-yard lines and a private air-conditioned lounge for those patrons.

At the South end of Bobby Dodd Stadium, 2,970 seats were added in front of the Wardlaw Building, providing seating in the South end zone for the first time since 1985. The South end zone seating and the lower levels of the East and North stands form a three-sided bowl.

Construction began following the 2001 season, with the first phase completed for the 2002 season, when capacity was 43,719. The first phase saw the completion of the lower bowl seating in the South, East and North areas of the stadium.

A new natural grass playing surface and drainage system was installed, and the field was shifted approximately 30 feet to the north and 15 feet to the west.

Program management was provided by Carter/Turner, a joint venture of Carter & Associates and Turner Construction, while HOK Sport was the project's architect.

STADIUM

Georgia Tech's football facility was known as Grant Field until April of 1988, when the Georgia State Board of Regents voted to add the name Bobby Dodd Stadium in honor of the legendary coach who guided the Rambling Wreck to its most illustrious football era. A member of the National Football Foundation College Football Hall of Fame, Dodd compiled a 165-64-8 record from 1945-66, and tutored 21 All-Americans as he led Tech to 13 bowl trips during his 22-year stay as head coach. Dodd served as Tech's director of athletics from 1951-76 and then worked as a consultant for the alumni association until his death in 1988 for a 57-year association with the Institute.

The name change was the first for the facility since it was named Hugh Inman Grant Field in 1914 after a gift from John W. Grant, a member of the Tech Board of Trustees and a well-known Atlanta merchant. The Grant family did not give the land on which Grant Field is built. However, they did give the initial $15,000 used in 1913 to build the first permanent concrete stands on the west side of the field. In gratitude for the gift, the Board of Trustees named the field Hugh Inman Grant Field in memory of Grant's deceased son.

The students who built Grant Field more than 95 years ago wouldn't recognize the home of Georgia Tech football if they saw it now. Not only has the skyline around the stadium changed dramatically, but the facility has steadily grown and improved during its rich history.

Tech actually began playing football on this site in 1905, but in 1913, the original concrete West Stands were largely built by Tech students and seated 5,600. The concrete East Stands were completed in time for the 1924 season. A year later, the South Stands were finished, bringing the seating capacity to approximately 30,000.

In 1947, the West Stands were rebuilt, which raised the capacity to 40,000, and a new press box was added. The North Stands were erected in 1958 to bring the seating to 44,105.

A second deck was added to the East side in 1962, increasing capacity to 53,300. The facility was expanded again in 1967, when the West Stands were double-decked to bring capacity to 58,121. That project also included new press and photo levels, including an elevator.

Following the 1985 season, the historic South Stands, which formed the familiar U-shape on North Avenue, were razed. In their place is the William C. Wardlaw Center, a multi-purpose facility for Georgia Tech's athletic and academic departments that was opened in 1988. Seating capacity was reduced to 46,000.

A major renovation was completed prior to the 1992 season with the construction of the Bill Moore Student Success Center behind the West Stands, as well as the addition of 32 executive suites, the renovation of the President's Box and press level, and the addition of the Roy Richards Festival concourse area under the West Stands.

Natural grass returned to Grant Field in 1995 after 24 seasons with artificial turf. The field was originally surfaced with Astroturf in 1971 and resurfaced in 1979, and then new artificial All-Pro Turf was installed in 1988.

Bobby Dodd Stadium/Grant Field is located at the heart of the Georgia Tech campus on Techwood Drive, bordered by North Avenue on the south and Bobby Dodd Way on the north.

Tech has hosted numerous crowds which have exceeded capacity, the largest of which was the 60,316 spectators for the Georgia game in 1973.

Georgia Tech continues to make improvements to the facility on a yearly basis. The most recent and visible addition is a new, larger video board and ribbon boards installed just in time for the start of the 2009 season. Renovations were also done this past off-season on the Festival level of the West side and throughout the stadium.

Bobby Dodd Stadium

Originally built in 1913 by members of the student body, Georgia Tech's Bobby Dodd Stadium at Historic Grant Field is the oldest on-campus stadium in NCAA Division I-A and easily one of the nation's most unique settings for college football.

In the 95 autumns since then, legends from Clint Castleberry to George Morris to Joe Hamilton to Calvin Johnson have played on Grant Field, and Paul Johnson joins coaching giants such as John Heisman and Bobby Dodd in patrolling the Grant Field sideline.

Four national title teams and 15 conference champions have showcased their skills on the Flats, and Grant Field was the site of one of the most famous games ever played, Tech's 222-0 win over Cumberland in 1916.

Today's Bobby Dodd Stadium seats 55,000 fans in a modern, comfortable facility that embraces the tradition that has made Tech's venerable stadium a cornerstone of college football for nearly a century.

THE ULTIMATE GOAL

Earning a degree from Georgia Tech the top priority

- ▶ A record 29 Yellow Jacket football players earned Dean's List honors last year.
- ▶ The Academic Progress Report, released May 6 (2009) by the NCAA, showed that the Georgia Tech football team earned a multi-year rate of 957 (out of 1,000) – significantly exceeding the average produced by all FBS teams (941) and all Division I teams (939).
- ▶ The ACC leads all conferences in the nation in the Football Bowl Subdivision in graduating its football players. ACC schools have combined to graduate their players at a rate of 72 percent according to the NCAA's released Graduation Success Rate (GSR) survey.

The Rambling Wreck

September 30, 1961 versus Rice. For the first time, the official Rambling Wreck car led the Georgia Tech football team onto Grant Field. It's happened at every home game since.

The event did not establish a new tradition at Georgia Tech, but it cemented one. The vehicle, a restored 1930 Model A Ford Sport Coupe, was Tech's first official Rambling Wreck car.

Since that time, the Rambling Wreck car has joined a much older tradition—the Yellow Jacket—as an official school mascot.

The term Rambling Wreck was first applied to a 1914 Ford owned by Floyd Field, Dean of Men. In the first published reference to the car as the "Rambling Wreck" in 1927, the Technique student newspaper spoke out against Field when he considered trading the car, but he did it anyway.

Tech officials decided in the late 1950s that the school needed an official car that would be known forever as the Rambling Wreck. Dean of Students James Dull began a search for a pre-1940 vintage model, and finally found one parked in front of his apartment building. The owner, Capt. Ted J. Johnson, a Delta Air Lines pilot, had just finished restoring the 1930 Ford Cabriolet Sport Coupe, which he intended to give to his son as a gift.

Johnson decided to let Tech have the car for $1,000 in May, 1961. He later returned the purchase price in the form of a contribution to the Alexander-Tharpe Fund, fulfilling a desire to go on record as having given the Rambling Wreck to Georgia Tech.

The Yellow Jacket

Conflicting accounts exist as to the origins and beginnings of the Yellow Jacket, but the nickname did not grow out of the familiar six-legged insect; rather, the insect mascot, known as "Buzz," grew out of the nickname. The first known reference to Tech students as "Yellowjackets" appeared in the Atlanta Constitution in 1905 and came into common usage at that time. The name, spelled as one word, was first used to describe supporters who attended Tech athletic events, dressed in yellow coats and jackets. The actual mascot was conceived at a later, undetermined date.

Other nicknames which have applied to Tech teams include the Engineers; the Tecks, the first known nickname which was phased out around 1910; the Blacksmiths, common between 1902 and 1904; and the Golden Tornado, thought to be created by sportswriters when John Heisman led Tech to its first national title in 1917.

White & Gold

In the fall of 1891, before Georgia Tech organized a football team of its own, a game was scheduled between Auburn and Georgia. A rivalry was already established in baseball between Tech and Georgia, so Tech students were invited to the game to cheer, of course, for Auburn.

The students appointed a committee to recommend colors to be worn and cheers to be used at the game. The committee suggested white and gold, and about 200 students attended the game wearing those colors.

In 1893, when Georgia Tech's football team played Georgia for the first time, a group of young women from the Lucy Cobb Institute for Girls attended the game to cheer for Tech, dressed in white and gold.

*Oh well it's up with the White and Gold
Down with the Red and Black
Georgia Tech is out for the victory
We'll drop the battle axe on Georgia's head
When we meet her, our team is sure to beat her
Down on the old farm there will be no sound
Till our bow-wows rip through the air
When the battle is over, Georgia's team will be found
With the Yellow Jackets swarming around.*

TRADITION RICH

Just a few of the many Tech traditions surrounding Yellow Jacket football

The Fight Song

The Georgia Tech fight song grew out of an old folk ballad, "The Sons of the Gamboliers."

Howard D. Cutter, a member of Tech's first graduating class (Mechanical Engineering, 1892), wrote in the November-December 1942 issue of the Georgia Tech Alumnus that the "Ramblin' Wreck" had its origins during the first two years after Tech opened in 1888, inspired when the entire student body traveled to Athens to see Tech's baseball team defeat Georgia.

By the early 1900s, "Ramblin' Wreck" was an established tradition. The earliest existing published version of the song appeared in the Blueprint, the Institute's yearbook, in 1908.

In 1910, Michael A. Greenblatt, Tech's first bandmaster, discovered the band playing "Ramblin' Wreck" to the tune of "Sons of the Gamboliers," and made his first arrangement of the song in the form of a handwritten manuscript.

When Frank Roman succeeded Greenblatt as bandmaster in 1911, he wrote a new adaptation of "Ramblin' Wreck," accompanied by many trumpet flourishes, that became nationally known. His is the version that continues to be popular today.

The fame of the song spread to such proportions that in 1959 it was sung by Richard Nixon and Nikita Khrushchev at their historic face-to-face meeting in Moscow. In 1984, the law firm of Newton, Hopkins & Ormsby investigated the copyright of "Ramblin' Wreck" and found that a number of people have had various versions of the song copyrighted. The original version of the song is in the public domain and can be played without payment of royalties.

*I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a hell of an engineer,
A helluva, helluva, helluva, helluva, hell of an engineer;
Like all the jolly good fellows, I drink my whiskey clear,
I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech and a hell of an engineer.*

*Oh, if I had a daughter, sir, I'd dress her in White and Gold,
And put her on the campus, to cheer the brave and bold.
But if I had a son, sir, I'll tell you what he'd do.
He would yell, "To Hell with Georgia," like his daddy used to do.
Oh, I wish I had a barrel of rum and sugar three thousand pounds,
A college bell to put it in and a clapper to stir it around.
I'd drink to all good fellows who come from far and near.
I'm a ramblin', gamblin', hell of an engineer.*

2009: Expectations High On The Flats

YELLOW JACKETS LOADED ON OFFENSE; MUST FILL KEY HOLES ON DEFENSIVE LINE

What a difference a year – not to mention a nine-win season – makes.

A year ago at this time head coach Paul Johnson was still learning the names of his players, and his players were still trying to grasp the nuances of Johnson's spread option offense. Sports Illustrated predicted the Yellow Jackets would win just three games. Georgia Tech fans took a wait-and-see approach.

The Yellow Jackets tripled the win number projected by SI, finishing 9-4, earning a share of the ACC Coastal Division title, receiving a bid to the Chick-fil-A Bowl and ending with a No. 22 national ranking.

Returning in 2009 are the ACC Coach of the Year (Johnson), the ACC Player of the Year (junior Jonathan Dwyer), a second team All-American (junior safety Morgan Burnett), a second team All-ACC selection (senior guard Cord Howard), one of the nation's top defensive ends (junior Derrick Morgan) and a multi-talented quarterback (junior Josh Nesbitt).

"We're excited," Johnson said. "We have the potential to be a really good football team and compete for an ACC championship. But, we've got a lot of work to do, we have to play consistently and we need to stay healthy."

In all, 17 starters and 55 letterwinners are back from a team that defeated Florida State, Miami and Georgia last November.

Understandably, expectations are high in Midtown Atlanta.

"High expectations don't bother me," Johnson said. "No one has higher expectations than our players and coaches."

There are, however, some legitimate concerns.

Most notably, Georgia Tech must replace three senior starters on the defensive line. Defensive end Michael Johnson and tackles Darryl Richard and Vance Walker each earned All-ACC honors and all three were selected in the NFL draft. The trio combined for 100 career starts and 100 tackles for loss.

There is concern about the offensive line, which was paper-thin last season and loses starting senior tackles Andrew Gardner, a first team All-ACC performer and NFL draft pick, and David Brown. The Yellow Jackets also need to shore up a kicking game that struggled at times last season.

And while Georgia Tech returns many key players from last season, the Yellow Jackets remain one of the youngest teams in college football. There are only 10 seniors on the roster, and only six of those players are on scholarship.

"We need to get better in a lot of areas," Johnson said. "We can be better on offense. Certainly, we can be better on defense and there is a lot of room for improvement on special teams, especially on kick and punt returns."

OFFENSE

The stars are aligned for what could be a very special offensive unit.

Not only do the Yellow Jackets have a better understanding of Paul Johnson's offense, every player who started the final two games of the season are back from an offense that led the ACC and ranked fourth nationally in rushing offense (273.2 ypg) and paced the league in total offense (372.5 ypg).

At the skill positions, the Jackets may be as talented as any team in the country. Returning players accounted for more than 95 percent of Tech's rushing and receiving yards from a year ago.

The key cog is junior Jonathan Dwyer, who led the ACC in rushing (1,395 yards and 12 touchdowns) last season. The junior B-back is an All-American candidate and an early darkhorse candidate for the Heisman Trophy.

At A-back (slot back), sophomore Roddy Jones emerged late last season as a dangerous weapon. Jones made national headlines with his 214-yard rushing effort at Georgia, and he averaged 8.5 yards per carry on the season. Junior Lucas Cox is a hard-nosed runner known for his blocking, but he is an efficient ball-carrier (7.7 yards per carry, three touchdowns).

Sophomores Embry Peeples and Marcus Wright, who saw limited action as true freshmen last season, give the Yellow Jackets outstanding speed at A-back. Redshirt freshman Richard Watson and Colgate transfer Preston Lyons will give Dwyer some relief at B-back.

The wild card in the equation is Louisville transfer Anthony Allen, who rushed for more than 1,100 yards and 20 touchdowns in two seasons with the Cardinals. Like Dwyer, Allen has an excellent blend of size and speed, and he can play either the B-back or A-back position.

At quarterback, Georgia Tech has a better combination of talent and depth than it has had in several seasons.

Junior Josh Nesbitt, who now runs the option with much more precision than a year ago, returns as the starter. Nesbitt was Tech's second-leading rusher (693 yards, seven touchdowns) and was effective as a passer when the line gave him time to throw. Nesbitt, plagued with nagging injuries much of last season, is one of the ACC's top dual-threat quarterbacks.

Jaybo Shaw did an admirable job in relief last season as a true freshman. Shaw played the majority of snaps in the 38-7 win over Mississippi State and started the 27-0 shut out of Duke, passing for 230 yards and a touchdown against the Blue Devils. Redshirt freshman Tevin Washington, a dangerous runner, gives the Yellow Jackets a third option behind center.

Perhaps the most-improved area on the team are the wide receivers.

Back is athletic junior Demaryius Thomas, a potential All-ACC performer who reeled in more than half of Tech's receptions in 2008. Tech's best receiver since Calvin Johnson, Thomas had 39 receptions for 627 yards and three touchdowns last season.

Also back is sophomore Tyler Melton, who started last season as a true freshman, but suffered a knee injury in October. Also returning is sophomore walk-on Zach Fisher, whose work ethic earned him playing time last year.

The improvement at receiver comes from the addition of two redshirt freshmen, one eligible transfer and possibly two talented true freshmen.

Redshirt freshmen Quentin Sims and Daniel McKayhan were so impressive in practice last fall, both came close to burning their redshirts in mid-season. Junior Kevin Cone, a non-scholarship transfer from Shorter College, should also see action.

The offensive line was the most thin and inexperienced position group on the team last season. The O-line should be improved and deeper, but by how much remains a question.

Three potential starters – senior center Dan Voss, senior guard Cord Howard and sophomore tackle Nick Clayton – missed most or all of spring practice with injuries.

Cord
HOWARD

Jonathan
DWYER

Voss' absence from spring practice (shoulder surgery) allowed junior Sean Bedford and redshirt freshman Zach Fraysier to gain experience at center.

Howard was a second team All-ACC selection in 2008 and owns the most game experience on the offensive line. Sophomore Joseph Gilbert started 12 games at the other guard position last year, but he will receive stiff competition from redshirt freshmen Omeregzie Uzzi and Nick McRae, and junior Zach Krish.

Junior Austin Barrick, a former tight end, and sophomore Nick Claytor took over as starting tackles last November after both Andrew Gardner and David Brown went down with injuries. Barrick and Claytor started November wins over Miami and Georgia when the Yellow Jackets produced a combined 946 yards of total offense in those two games.

Barrick and Claytor will receive competition from senior Brad Sellers and redshirt freshman Phil Smith.

DEFENSE

Last year at this time, all talk about the Georgia Tech defense began with its defensive line, one of the strongest units in college football. This season, the defensive line is Tech's most inexperienced group and the biggest question mark.

However, the lone returning starter is a star. Junior Derrick Morgan, who had 9.5 tackles for loss, 7.0 sacks, four fumble recoveries and was honorable mention All-ACC, is ready to emerge from the shadows.

The most likely candidate to start opposite Morgan at defensive end is Robert Hall, who has been a valuable reserve for two seasons. A number of players, including juniors Anthony Egboniwe and converted linebacker Osahon Tongo, redshirt freshman Antonio Wilson and true freshman Emmanuel Dieke, who enrolled early and participated in spring drills, are all vying for playing time.

With both starting defensive tackles gone, starting jobs appear wide open. Sophomore Jason Peters moves from defensive end, where he was a back-up to Michael Johnson. Junior Ben Anderson has seen spot duty the last two seasons and sophomore Logan Walls saw limited action a year ago. Redshirt freshman T.J. Barnes is a legitimate candidate to start.

The linebacker corps, while still a young group, is one of the Yellow Jackets' deepest and most athletic units.

Four players who had multiple starting assignments last year are back, led by senior Sedric Griffin, who ranked fourth on the team in tackles (53) and had eight tackles for loss. Juniors Anthony Barnes and Brad Jefferson both started the 2008 season opener and both suffered injuries in that game that forced them to miss time. Both are healthy heading into the fall.

Sophomore Kyle Jackson had starts at both inside and outside linebacker a year ago, and the ACC Sports Journal named him the ACC Defensive Rookie of the Year. Sophomore Steven Sylvester saw considerable action last year as a true freshman, and redshirt freshmen B.J. Machen and Malcolm Munroe have great potential. Junior Mario Edwards can play the hybrid "Wolf" position or any position in the secondary.

The secondary returns every player except for cornerback Jahi Word-Daniels, who sat out the last half of the 2008 season with a hamstring injury.

Leading the way is junior All-American candidate Morgan Burnett at safety. Burnett recorded a team-high seven interceptions last season and had 24 more tackles than any other Georgia Tech player.

Junior Dominique Reese, who had three interceptions in 2008, also returns as a starter at safety. Sophomore Cooper Taylor enjoyed an outstanding true freshman season at safety and at nickel. Three redshirt freshmen – Brandon Leslie, Jon Lockhart and Kameron Riley – will also be in the mix at safety.

Despite the loss of Word-Daniels, the Yellow Jackets should be solid at cornerback.

Junior Mario Butler started all 13 games last season, and Rashaad Reid started the final eight games as a true freshman. Sophomore Michael Peterson played well in a reserve role last season, and senior Martin Frierson was in the rotation at cornerback before suffering a knee injury early in the 2008 season. Sophomore Alex Walker, who had an interception against Duke, provides depth.

Two not-so-new faces will bolster the cornerback position. Sophomore Jerrard Tarrant, who sat out the 2008 season after being suspended, was a leading candidate to start before the suspension was handed down. Junior Correy Earls, who saw significant action

2009 By The Numbers

- 2 ESPN Thursday night games come on consecutive weeks – vs. Clemson (Sept. 10), at Miami (Sept. 17)
- 3 Southeastern Conference opponents (Mississippi State, Vanderbilt, Georgia) are on the Yellow Jacket schedule.

SPECIAL TEAMS

Paul Johnson made it clear, following the conclusion of the 2008 season, that he would like to see improved special teams play in 2009. The Yellow Jackets ranked 11th in the ACC in net punting, 10th in kickoff returns and ninth in punt returns.

There is reason to believe that Tech will be better across the board in 2009.

Junior Scott Blair returns after serving as the primary kicker and punter – the first Yellow Jacket to handle all kicking duties since 1983. The ideal situation for Tech would be for Blair to be able to surrender one of those duties.

Blair was Tech's second-leading scorer last season (69 points). He converted 12-of-19 field goal attempts including 12-of-13 from inside the 40. Blair averaged 38.9 yards on 41 punt attempts with 11 downed inside the 20.

Sophomore Chandler Anderson, the holder last season, is a candidate to relieve Blair at either position. Anderson, who missed spring practice after a bout with appendicitis, punted six times in '08 for an average of 41.7. Redshirt freshmen Andy Elakman and Chris Tanner will also challenge.

The Yellow Jackets will have no shortage of candidates to return punts or kicks. Five returnees have experience returning kicks or punts and several others may get a look.

One key loss is that of long snapper Bret White, who handled those duties for three seasons.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

Paul Johnson's second recruiting class consists of 21 signees, including 14 student-athletes from the state of Georgia.

The recruiting class hits every area of need, in particular the offensive and defensive lines, where the Yellow Jackets lost a combined five starters to graduation. Five of the 21 signees were recruited to Georgia Tech as defensive linemen and four as offensive linemen.

"I am very pleased with this group," Johnson said. "I think we addressed some needs on the line and added a number of skill players who will be solid contributors. This is a talented group of young men who were well-coached on the high school level."

THE 2009 SCHEDULE

"With 11 BCS opponents, including eight which played in bowl games last year, our schedule will be extremely challenging," Paul Johnson said. "At the same time, it's a schedule our players and fans should be really excited about."

After opening the season against Jacksonville State (Sept. 5), a strong FCS opponent, the Jackets play consecutive nationally-televised Thursday night games against Clemson (Sept. 10) and at Miami (Sept. 17).

Tech closes September against North Carolina, which beat the Yellow Jackets 28-7 in Chapel Hill last season.

October will be an extremely challenging month with four of five games on the road. The Yellow Jackets play at Mississippi State and new coach Dan Mullen (Oct. 3), followed by their first game in Tallahassee against Florida State since 2003 (Oct. 10).

Tech's only home game in October comes against two-time defending ACC champion Virginia Tech (Oct. 17). The Yellow Jackets then travel to Virginia (Oct. 24), where they have not won since 1990, then close the month with a road game at Vanderbilt (Oct. 31).

Georgia Tech will host Wake Forest (Nov. 7) in the first meeting between the two teams since they met in the 2006 ACC Championship game. After a road game at Duke (Nov. 14), the Jackets close the regular season with their traditional battle against Georgia (Nov. 28).

Georgia Tech will play 11 consecutive weeks before its first and only open date on Nov. 21.

AUSTIN BARRICK

Emerged as a starter at right tackle late last season after injuries to starting senior tackles David Brown and Andrew Gardner... a mobile, versatile lineman who has found a home at tackle in Paul Johnson's offense after bouncing around to different positions earlier in his career... began his career as a tight end in 2007 and briefly moved to A-back in the spring of 2008 before landing on the offensive line... perhaps no other player on the roster has changed positions and jersey numbers more often.

2008

Became the starter at right tackle Nov. 8 at North Carolina after Andrew Gardner underwent season-ending surgery... played at both tackle positions... saw action in every game... was key in helping the Yellow Jackets rank first in the ACC in rushing (273.2 ypg)... helped the Yellow Jackets rush for 409 yards against 13th-ranked Georgia (Nov. 29)... actually had his first career rushing attempt – on a tackle-eligible lateral – against the Bulldogs (see photo above)... part of an offense that produced 472 rushing yards vs. No. 23 Miami (Nov. 20)... helped the Yellow Jackets rush for 326 yards in his first career start at North Carolina (Nov. 8)... saw significant action in the win over Florida State (Nov. 1)... played close to 40 snaps in the Gardner-Webb game (Oct. 11)... fielded a short kickoff and returned it eight yards against Mississippi State (Sept. 20)... saw significant duty vs. Jacksonville State (Aug. 28).

2007

Played in three games – Sept. 8 vs. Samford and in consecutive games against Miami and Army – at tight end.

2006

Redshirted as a true freshman.

High School

The No. 30 prospect in Alabama by Scout.com... rated the No. 33 tight end in the nation by Scout... three-time honorable mention all-state... earned all-Metro and all-county... had 48 catches for 789 yards and 12 TDs as a senior... coached by John Grass at Moody High... played first three years of high school at Albertville (Ala.) HS... played in just five games as a junior but had 38 catches and five TDs... had 48 catches for 784 yards and five scores as a sophomore... set school record with 13 receptions in a game... lettered in track and twice finished in the top 10 in the state in the discus... Honor Roll student and member of National Honor Society and Sigma Delta Phi.

CORREY EARLS

A speedy, part-time starter at wide receiver in 2008, Earls moved to the defensive secondary, at cornerback in the spring... has returned kicks in the past... one of the fastest players on the roster... was a reserve wide receiver in 2007 and saw his playing time increase as the season progressed... suffered a scary head injury in 2007 at Virginia but returned after missing just two games... entered the 2008 season on top of the depth chart at wide receiver... a lingering hamstring injury, however, caused him to sit out the first four games of the season.

2008

Started the final five games of the season at wide receiver... had four receptions for 41 yards and one kick return... had one reception for 22 yards and one kick return vs. No. 23 Miami (Nov. 20)... hauled in his first three pass receptions of the season for 34 yards at North Carolina (Sept. 8)... saw first significant action of the season vs. Gardner-Webb (Oct. 11)... saw first action of the season vs. Duke (Oct. 4)... missed the first four games of the season because of a nagging hamstring injury.

Playing time and contributions at wide receiver increased as the season progressed... suffered a scary head injury that caused him to lose all feeling in his legs and left him lying on the turf for more than 15 minutes at Virginia (Sept. 22)... wore a bulky neck brace for the next two weeks, but returned after missing just two games, to become one of Tech's top receivers... also emerged as a dangerous kick returner... played in 11 games and started the final two games of the regular season... caught 14 passes for 188 yards (13.4 ypr)... had one TD reception... returned eight kickoffs for an average of 27.0 yards... caught at least one pass in each of the last five games of the regular season... demonstrated his speed vs. Samford game (Sept. 8) when he returned two kickoffs for 110 yards and caught one short pass for seven yards... was having his best game of the year at Virginia (Sept. 22) - two catches for 21 yards and a kickoff return of 21 yards - before suffering the head injury... returned to action at Miami (Oct. 13) and had one reception for 13 yards... had three kick returns for 52 yards and caught one pass for nine yards vs. Virginia Tech (Nov. 1)... recorded five receptions for 86 yards and his first career touchdown at Duke (Nov. 10)... his 38-yard TD pass from Taylor Bennett in the fourth quarter sealed the win against the Blue Devils... had one rush, one reception and one kickoff return for a combined 33 yards vs. North Carolina (Nov. 17)... caught two passes for 28 yards vs. Georgia (Nov. 24).

Redshirted as a true freshman.

High School

Member of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution's Top 50 in Georgia... the No. 34 player on the Scout.com Georgia Hot 100 list... first-team all-Middle Georgia (Macon Telegraph)... had 35 catches for 714 yards with 14 touchdowns as a senior... made 40 tackles and three interceptions on defense... added 20 catches for 450 yards as a junior... coached by Anthony Hines at Central High... played in Georgia North-South All-Star Game... also played baseball and ran track.

SEDRIC GRIFFIN

A senior leader on the Yellow Jacket defense... one of just six scholarship seniors on the roster... could be one of the better linebackers in the ACC... coming off an outstanding season in which he began the year as a back-up and emerged as Tech's most consistent linebacker... compensates for lack of height with good speed, strong instincts, and he enjoys contact.

2008

One of Tech's biggest surprises... played in the Chick-fil-A Bowl despite suffering a left knee injury in the Nov. 20 Miami game... missed the Georgia game (Nov. 29)... Tech's fourth-leading tackler (53)... had 8.0 tackles-for-loss and 3.0 sacks... led all Tech linebackers in TFLs... started 11 games at outside linebacker... a member of many special teams... tied for the team lead with six tackles at North Carolina (Nov. 8)... recorded a sack and three tackles-for-loss in the win over Florida State (Nov. 1)... had six tackles, five solo tackles and a tackle-for-loss vs. Virginia (Oct. 25)... recorded two tackles-for-loss and Tech's only sack at Clemson (Oct. 18)... led Tech in tackles with five, 2.5 tackles-for-loss and 1.0 sacks vs. Duke (Oct. 4)... led all defenders with eight tackles, including five solo tackles and a tackle-for-loss, vs. Mississippi State (Sept. 20)... recorded five tackles at Virginia Tech (Sept. 13)... made the most of first career start at Boston College (Sept. 6)... earned nine tackles, including five solos, against the Eagles... had three tackles and broke up a pass vs. Jacksonville State (Aug. 28).

Saw action in 11 games including the Humanitarian Bowl... recorded four tackles including two solo tackles... had an assisted tackle in the season opener at Notre Dame (Sept. 1)... credited with solo tackles at Maryland (Oct. 6) and vs.

Army (Oct. 20)... missed all of spring practice in 2007 after sustaining a broken bone in his leg in the Toyota Gator Bowl.

Played in every game as a true freshman on special teams, and also saw action on defense in wins vs. Samford, Troy and Duke... totalled 11 tackles on the season... made three tackles vs. Duke... had a tackle for loss vs. Samford.

High School

Rated the No. 21 player in South Carolina by Scout.com and No. 23 by Rivals.com... made a name for himself in the North Carolina-South Carolina Shrine Bowl all-star game... three-time all-region selection... totalled 156 tackles, including 103 solos, with 27 tackles-for-loss, five sacks and three interceptions as a senior... set school record with 204 tackles as a junior... had 22 tackles in one game... four-year letterwinner and two-time team captain for coach Reggie Kennedy at Fairfield Central High, which he led to back-to-back region titles... also lettered in track.

- 2008 AT&T All-America National Player of the Week (Dec. 4)
- 2008 ACC Offensive Back of the Week (Dec. 1)
- 2008 ESPN Helmet Sticker (Nov. 29)

A returning starter at A-back where he is a weapon as a ball-carrier, receiver and kick returner... suffered a dislocated wrist in June while lifting weights and is hopeful of being ready by the season opener... came on strong late last season with 311 rushing yards over the last two regular season games... a speedy, shifty rusher who makes opponents pay when they focus on Jonathan Dwyer... his 214 rushing yards in the win at Georgia will long be remembered by Yellow Jacket fans and earned him three different individual honors... has developed into a very solid blocker, which is key in Paul Johnson's option-based offense... a very intelligent player whose size and physical attributes are ideal for the A-back position... Tech's leader when it comes to doing volunteer work in the community.

A redshirt freshman starter at A-back who enjoyed great success down the stretch... Tech's most productive A-back... Tech's second-leading rusher with 690 yards on just 81 carries... his rushing average (8.5 yards per attempt) was one of the highest among all FBS players... rushed for four touchdowns and had five total TDs... Tech's third-leading receiver with 155 yards on eight receptions (19.4 yards per reception)... Tech's primary kick returner... averaged 23.6 yards on 15 kick returns and 8.8 yards on six punt returns... averaged 96.3 all-purpose yards per game, which ranked 10th in the ACC... named the AT&T All-America National Player of the Week for his unforgettable performance in the regular season finale at Georgia (Nov. 29)... rushed for a career-high 214 yards and two touchdowns on just 13 carries against the Bulldogs... his 54-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter, when he tight-roped down the 'Dawg sideline, gave Tech a 10-point lead... had a ridiculous 312 all-purpose yards on the day... rushed for a then-career-best 97 yards on seven carries (13.9 yards per attempt) and had three kick returns for 51 yards in the win over No. 23 Miami (Nov. 20)... recorded six carries for 56 yards and two receptions for 20 yards at North Carolina (Nov. 1)... had kickoff returns of 46 and 29 yards and rushed four times for 39 yards in the win over Florida State (Nov. 1)... rushed for 75 yards on 11 carries, a 29-yard punt return, a 24-yard kickoff return and 162 all-purpose yards vs. Virginia (Oct. 25)... had a 35-yard pass reception from Josh Nesbitt at Clemson (Oct. 18)... rushed for a touchdown in the win over Duke (Oct. 4)... caught a 41-yard touchdown pass - his first career TD reception - from Josh Nesbitt and ran four times for 28 yards at Virginia Tech (Sept. 13).

Missed two games entirely and parts of other games because of hamstringing and ankle injuries... led all ACC quarterbacks, ranked second on the team and eighth in the ACC in rushing yards per game (63.0)... ranked 10th in the ACC in total offense (136.5 ypg)... ran for seven touchdowns and threw for two... rushed for 693 yards – the second-most ever by a Tech quarterback in one season... just the second Yellow Jacket QB to rush for more than 500 yards in a season... his seven rushing touchdowns tied for the second-most by a Tech QB in one season... threw for 150 yards and rushed for 62 more in the Chick-fil-A Bowl vs. LSU (Dec. 31)... had modest statistics (40 yards rushing, 19 yards passing), but was as crucial to Tech's 45-42 win at Georgia (Nov. 29) as any player... churned out 93 yards rushing and one touchdown – including a career-long rush of 54 yards – vs. No. 23 Miami (Nov. 20)... rushed for 77 yards and a touchdown, passed for 91 yards and a TD and hit Demaryius Thomas with the go-ahead fourth-quarter touchdown pass at Clemson (Oct. 18)... suffered a strained hamstring eight snaps into the Mississippi State game (Sept. 20)... his 151 rushing yards at Virginia Tech (Sept. 13) broke the Tech single-game record for rushing yards by a quarterback... also threw for 109 yards to become the fourth player in Tech history to rush and pass for 100 yards in the same game... threw a 41-yard TD strike to Roddy Jones, then found Lucas Cox in the endzone on the two-point conversion to tie the game against the Hokies, 17-17... rushed for 50 yards and one touchdown on 15 carries at Boston College (Sept. 6)... ran for a key first down in the fourth quarter that led to the game-winning score... had his first two career rushing touchdowns in the season opener vs. Jacksonville State (Aug. 28)... rushed for 60 yards on 11 carries and completed 5-of-12 passes for 87 yards and no interceptions against the Gamecocks... missed part of spring practice with a groin injury and a chunk of August drills with a sore shoulder.

2007

Saw action in 11 of 13 games as a true freshman... after sitting out September games vs. Boston College and Virginia, he saw action in each of the last nine games of the season, playing at least one series in each half... ranked third on the team in rushing with 339 yards... averaged a team-best 6.4 yards per carry... completed 5-of-13 passes for 93 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions... surprised some when he came off the bench for a few snaps in the season opener at Notre Dame (Sept. 1)... throttled Samford (Sept. 8) with 39 yards rushing on just five carries and completed his only pass attempt for 15 yards... rushed four times for 25 yards and was credited with a pass reception for three yards in Tech's win at Miami (Oct. 13)... rushed 13 times for 78 yards and completed his lone pass attempt vs. Army (Oct. 20)... produced 100 yards of total offense vs. North Carolina (Nov. 17) when he rushed four times for 53 yards and connected on a 47-yard TD pass to Greg Smith... carried six times for 37 yards and completed one pass for 11 yards in the bowl game.

High School

Rated the top quarterback in the state of Georgia and one of the best in the nation... tabbed to the Scout.com national Hot 100 (No. 76)... the No. 4 prospect in Georgia according to Scout.com... rated No. 14 in Georgia by Rivals... the No. 9 dual-threat quarterback in the nation by Rivals and the No. 12 QB by Scout.com... two-time first-team all-state selection and the Class AA Offensive Player of the Year as a junior... named to the Atlanta Journal-Constitution Super Southern 100... Macon Telegraph Top 50 in Georgia... as a senior at Greene County High, he passed for 2,256 yards and 32 touchdowns with just four interceptions... completed 134-of-222 passes... rushed for 493 yards on 93 carries and scored eight touchdowns... as a junior he passed for 2,833 yards with 31 TDs and nine interceptions, while rushing for 1,252 yards and 22 scores... had four interceptions in two seasons on defense... coached by Larry Milligan.

Paul Johnson

HEAD COACH ■ WESTERN CAROLINA (1979)2nd SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH (9-4) ■ 13th SEASON OVERALL (116-43)

Paul Johnson, who helped make Georgia Tech one of college football's biggest surprise stories of 2008, enters his second season with the Yellow Jackets in 2009.

Johnson was named Georgia Tech's 12th head coach on December 7, 2007 after previously serving six seasons as head coach of the U.S. Naval Academy, where he led the Midshipmen to a level of success they had not seen in decades. Johnson's first head coaching job came at Georgia Southern, where in five seasons he led the Eagles to two I-AA national championships.

In 12 seasons overall as a head coach, Johnson owns a career record of 116-43 (.730). The only coach to win more games in his first 12 seasons as a head coach was Nebraska's Tom Osborne.

Prior to the start of the 2008 season, Sports Illustrated projected Georgia Tech to finish 3-9 and the ACC media picked the Yellow Jackets to finish fourth in the Coastal Division. However, Johnson directed Tech to a 9-4 record, a share of the Coastal Division title and a Chick-fil-A Bowl berth. Johnson's first Yellow Jacket team beat three nationally-ranked opponents – Florida State, Miami and Georgia – over the final four games of the regular season. The win over Georgia snapped a seven-year losing skid to Tech's in-state rival.

Johnson's first season at Georgia Tech was remarkable for a number of reasons. Not only did he and his staff install completely new offensive and defensive schemes, but Johnson inherited one of the nation's youngest rosters, which included 76 freshmen and sophomores. The last one-third of the season, 16 of Tech's 22 starters were freshmen or sophomores. He also took over a program low in scholarship numbers, well below the maximum of 85, the lingering effects of distant NCAA penalties.

The 2008 team also suffered more than its share of injuries. Twelve opening-day starters combined to miss 31 games because of injuries. In a

September road game at defending ACC champion Virginia Tech, the Jackets started a walk-on freshman at wide receiver. A few weeks later, Tech started its third-string quarterback as the result of injuries to starter Josh Nesbitt and back-up Jaybo Shaw.

Almost as soon as Johnson was hired, the pundits questioned if Johnson's option-based spread offense would work on the ACC level. Those questions came even though Navy racked up mind-numbing offensive numbers, leading the NCAA in rushing three straight years from 2005 to 2007, mostly against ACC and other BCS-level competition.

Johnson quieted those critics almost as soon as the 2008 season kicked off and certainly after Tech closed the regular season by combining for 86 points and 881 rushing yards in games against nationally-ranked Miami and Georgia. The Yellow Jackets, with freshmen and sophomores manning every skill position and behind a patch-work offensive line, averaged 273.2 rushing yards per game, ranking fourth nationally and first in the ACC. Georgia Tech also led the ACC in total offense (372.5 ypg).

Johnson, who won more games than any first-year coach in Georgia Tech history, was named the ACC Coach of the Year and the CBSSportsline.com National Coach of the Year in 2008.

Several of Johnson's players received individual accolades following the 2008 season. Sophomore running back Jonathan Dwyer was named the ACC Player of the Year after leading the league in rushing. Senior defensive end Michael Johnson was an AFCA first team All-American. Senior defensive tackle Darryl Richard won the ACC's prestigious Tatum Award for his performance on the field and in the classroom. Eight different Yellow Jackets earned All-ACC honors, including four who were first team selections.

"Paul Johnson is the best fit, the best choice for the Georgia Tech head coaching position," Georgia Tech athletic director Dan Radakovich said upon Johnson's hiring. "He will educate young men, represent Georgia Tech at the highest level, he will win football games and play for championships.

"He accomplished feats at a Service Academy that many thought were not possible. He looks at his talent and maximizes it. Whether as an assistant coach at Hawai'i, or as the head coach at Georgia Southern or Navy, he has figured out how to be successful."

Prior to Johnson's arrival in Atlanta, he earned unprecedented success at Navy.

Johnson coached six years at Navy, where in 2007 the Midshipmen won a fifth straight Commander-In-Chief's Trophy, earned a postseason bowl bid for the fifth consecutive year and beat Notre Dame for the first time since 1963. Johnson was a finalist for the 2007 Liberty Mutual National Coach of the Year.

In six seasons at Navy, Johnson compiled a record of 45-29.

Johnson took over a Navy football program that was coming off the worst two-year span in its 123-year history (1-20) and had recorded just two winning seasons in the last 20 years. After a 2-10 mark in Johnson's first year, the Midshipmen achieved what many thought was no longer possible at an Academy. Johnson brought the Midshipmen back into the national spotlight with a 43-19 (.694) record over his last four-plus years.

Johnson dominated the other two Service Academies like no other coach in the school's annals, posting an 11-1 (.917) overall record, including a perfect 6-0 mark against rival Army. His 2007 senior class was the first in school history to post a perfect 8-0 mark against Army and Air Force.

Johnson's Navy teams improved as each season progressed. Over his last five years, Navy posted a 13-2 (.867) record over the final three games of the season and outscored the opposition 611-335 in those contests. In games in which Johnson had more than a week to prepare for an opponent, the Midshipmen went 15-6 (.714) over his last four years combined.

The Midshipmen led the nation in rushing in 2007 for an unprecedented third consecutive year, producing more than 350 yards per game. Under Johnson, Navy never finished lower than third nationally in rushing offense.

Navy ranked among the nation's highest-scoring teams in 2007, averaging 39.92 points per outing. The 2007 Mids also ranked in the top 10 nationally in kickoff returns and in fewest sacks allowed.

Johnson's teams have been successful off the field as well. Navy ranked No. 1 in the country in graduation rates during Johnson's tenure. In 2004, Johnson was named Bobby Dodd National Coach of the Year after leading Navy to a 10-2 record, tying the school record for wins set in 1905, and won a bowl game (34-19 victory vs. New Mexico in the Emerald Bowl) for just the fifth time in the history of the program.

In 2003, Johnson led Navy to an 8-5 record and brought the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy back to Annapolis for the first time since 1981, propelling Navy to a bowl game for the first time since 1996. The Mids became just the sixth team in NCAA history to go from a winless season to a bowl game in two years or less.

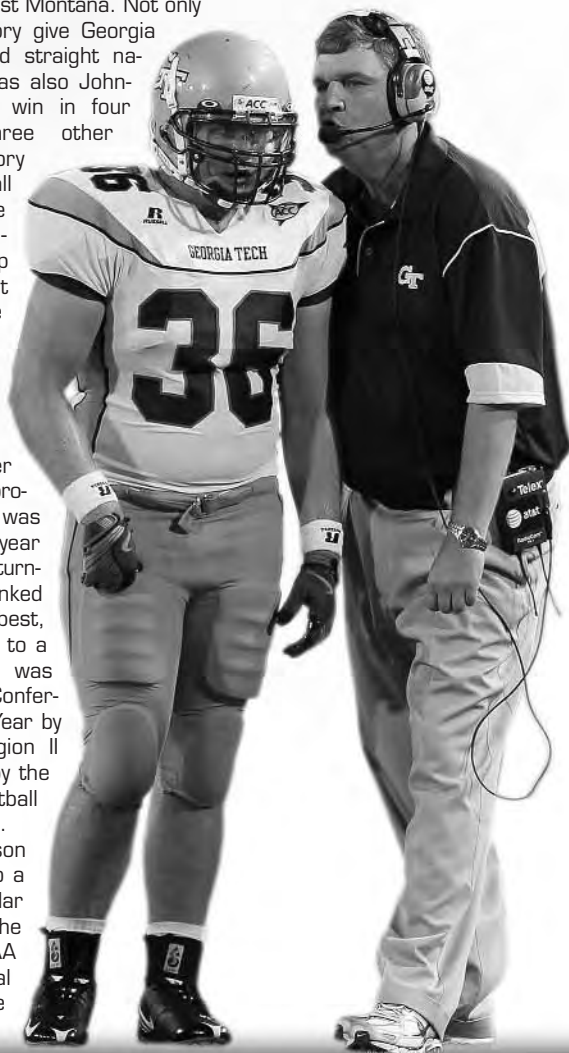

Before arriving at Annapolis, Johnson served as head coach at Georgia Southern from 1997 to 2001. At Georgia Southern, Johnson posted a 62-10 (.861) record, won two straight I-AA National Championships (1999 and 2000), five consecutive Southern Conference Championships and was named the Division I-AA National Coach of the Year four straight years (1997-2000).

After Johnson took over as head coach at Georgia Southern in 1997, he returned the Eagle program to national prominence statistically and in the won-lost ledger. In addition to Georgia Southern's 62-10 mark, the Eagles scored 2,855 points (39.7 points per game), picked up 25,941 rushing yards (360.3 yards per game), 7,816 passing yards (108.6 yards per game) and 33,757 total yards (468.8 yards per game). GSU scored 380 touchdowns in the Johnson Era, an average of 5.3 per game. The Eagles' scoring margin under Johnson was +21.5 (39.7-18.5).

Johnson picked up a milestone victory in the 2000 I-AA National Championship Game against Montana. Not only did the 27-25 victory give Georgia Southern its second straight national title, but it was also Johnson's 50th career win in four seasons. Only three other coaches in the history of Division I football won 50 or more games in four seasons — Walter Camp (1888-1891, 54-2 at Yale), George Woodruff (1892-1895, 53-4 at Penn) and Bob Pruett (1996-99, 50-4 at Marshall).

Johnson took over a Georgia Southern program in 1997 that was 4-7 the previous year and orchestrated a turnaround that ranked among the NCAA's best, directing the Eagles to a 10-3 record. He was named Southern Conference Coach of the Year by the media and Region II Coach of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association.

In 1998, Johnson guided the Eagles to a perfect 11-0 regular season record and the school's sixth NCAA Division I-AA National Championship Game appearance before finishing with a 14-1 mark. He directed a high-powered offensive unit that tied or broke 100 records during the campaign, again earned the league's top coaching honor and received The Sports Network's Eddie Robinson Award – symbolic of the division's national coach-of-the-year selection.

In 1999, Johnson brought Georgia Southern its fifth national title, and the Eagles finished 13-2 while breaking 197 records. For his efforts, Johnson was honored as the 1999 AFCA and Chevrolet I-AA National Coach of the Year. Johnson duplicated the feat in the 2000 season as the Eagles repeated as national champions, again finishing 13-2, and Johnson captured the AFCA I-AA Coach of the Year award once more.

In five seasons at Georgia Southern, Johnson's squads broke or tied 379 individual and team school, conference, playoff or stadium records, ranked in the top 10 in 21 statistical categories and produced 31 All-Americans. The Eagles won an NCAA I-AA-record 39 consecutive games at home. Meanwhile, their 52 wins over those four seasons were the most in all of Division I.

Johnson was previously Navy's offensive coordinator in 1995 and 1996, and his spread offense made an immediate impact, breaking five school records during the Mids' five-win season in 1995.

Navy posted a 9-3 record the next season in 1996, including a 42-38 victory over California in the Aloha Bowl. It was Navy's first winning season since 1982 and one of only two winning seasons the Mids had during a 19-year span. Prior to joining the Navy staff, Johnson spent eight seasons as the offensive coordinator at the University of Hawai'i (1987-94). He helped guide the Rainbows to their first Western Athletic Conference title and their first bowl appearance, coordinating an explosive offense that broke or equaled more than 160 school records.

While at Hawai'i, Johnson developed a successful offensive unit which earned top-20 I-A statistical rankings in scoring offense, total offense and rushing offense during six of his eight seasons. He earned top offensive coach honors in the WAC and was named one of the top 10 assistant coaches in the country by The Sporting News.

After first arriving at Georgia Southern in 1983 as defensive line coach, Johnson was promoted to offensive coordinator in 1985. Under his tutelage, record-setting quarterback Tracy Ham and the Eagle offense re-wrote the school record book while averaging 435 total yards and 36 points per contest. Georgia Southern rolled to a combined 26-4 record and captured a pair of I-AA titles in 1985-86.

Johnson's coaching career began when he was offensive coordinator and line coach at his alma mater, Avery County (N.C.) High School, in 1979-80. He accepted the offensive coordinator's position at Lees-McRae Junior College in 1981, leading his offensive unit to a sixth-place national standing among NJCAA total offense leaders.

Johnson, a native of Newland, N.C., earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Western Carolina in 1979 and a Master's degree in health and physical education from Appalachian State in 1982. He and wife, Susan, are the parents of a daughter, Kaitlyn.

Brian Bohannon

QUARTERBACKS/B-BACKS ■ 2nd SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH ■ GEORGIA (1993)

Brian Bohannon, coach of the quarterbacks and B-backs, enters his second season at Georgia Tech and his 13th year working with Yellow Jacket head coach Paul Johnson.

In Bohannon's first season, Tech led the ACC and ranked fourth nationally in rushing offense (273.2 ypg) and the Yellow Jackets led the ACC in total offense (372.5 ypg). Then-sophomore B-back Jonathan Dwyer led the league in rushing and was named the ACC Player of the Year.

Under Bohannon's guidance, quarterbacks Josh Nesbitt and Jaybo Shaw quickly grasped and prospered in Georgia Tech's new spread option offense.

Before arriving at Georgia Tech, Bohannon spent six years as wide receivers coach at Navy. Bohannon was part of a staff that returned the Midshipmen to the national spotlight. Navy won 35 games over four years, earning a school-record four consecutive postseason bowl berths and a school-best four straight Commander-In-Chief's Trophies.

Under Bohannon, Navy's receiving corps emerged as outstanding receivers as well as skilled blockers.

In 2007, Navy's offense put up remarkable numbers. The Midshipmen ranked first nationally in rushing (348.8 ypg), 10th in scoring (39.3 ppg), 22nd in total offense (444.1 ypg) and ninth in sacks allowed (1.08 pg). In 2005, Bohannon helped the Mids rushing attack average a nation's best 318.7 yards per contest as Navy went to a bowl game for a third straight year, won a second consecutive bowl game and won the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy for a third-straight year.

In 2004, Bohannon's efforts helped the wide receiver corps to perform well enough for the Midshipmen to finish 45th in the country in total offense (388.8 yards per game), third in rushing offense (289.5), win a school-record-tying 10 games (the most wins since 1905), win the Emerald Bowl and claim the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy. In 2003, he helped the Mids lead the nation in rushing (323.2 yards per contest) and set school records for rushing yards per game, total rushing yards (4,202), rushing yards per attempt (5.5), rushing touchdowns (44), total offense (5,506), total offense per game (125.6 yards per game), fourth in scoring defense (12.0 points per game) and sixth in total defense (261.4 yards per game).

In 2002, Navy had the third-best rushing average in the country (270.75) and scored 30 or more points on four occasions.

Bohannon coached the wide receivers for three seasons (1997-99) at Georgia Southern before taking over the defensive backs his last two years (2000-01).

During his initial season as defensive backs coach, the secondary played a key role in Georgia Southern's efforts, ranking 18th nationally in pass defense (156.1 yards per game) and 28th in interceptions (16). The Eagles' secondary took another leap forward in 2001, finishing second nationally in pass defense (125.6 yards per game), fourth in scoring defense (12.0 points per game) and sixth in total defense (261.4 yards per game).

A four-year letterwinner and standout as a wide receiver at Georgia, Bohannon started his coaching career at West Georgia before earning his first full-time position at Gardner-Webb (N.C.) as wide receivers coach in 1996.

A native of Griffin, Ga., he earned his bachelor's degree in general business from Georgia in 1993 and a master's in business education from West Georgia in 1996. He is married to the former Melanie Cobb and they have three children, sons Blake Patrick (7) and Braden Thomas (5) and daughter Brooke Anna (2).

Brian Jean-Mary

LINEBACKERS ■ 6th SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH ■ APPALACHIAN STATE (1998)

Brian Jean-Mary enters his sixth season at Georgia Tech as linebackers coach.

Jean-Mary (pronounced JON-muh-REE) helps coach a Tech unit that has ranked among the nation's Top 30 in rushing defense, total defense and scoring defense each of the last five seasons. In particular, the Yellow Jackets have ranked in the top 20 in rushing defense five times since Jean-Mary's arrival.

Five of Jean-Mary's former Yellow Jacket linebackers played in the NFL last season – Gary Guyton (New England), KaMichael Hall (Indianapolis), Chris Reis (New Orleans), Philip Wheeler (Indianapolis) and Gerris Wilkinson (New York Giants).

Last season Jean-Mary molded one of the ACC's youngest linebacker corps into a deep and talented group. After injuries to two starters in the season opener, Tech's linebackers did not skip a beat. Then-junior Sedric Griffin emerged as arguably Tech's most consistent linebacker and Kyle Jackson was named the ACC Defensive Rookie of the Year by the ACC Sports Journal, and honorable mention Freshman All-America by College Football News.

In 2007, Wheeler and Guyton formed one of the top linebacker tandems in the nation, combining for 22.5 tackles-for-loss and 11 sacks. As a team, the Yellow Jackets led the nation in sacks and ranked second in tackles-for-loss during the regular season. The previous season, Wheeler earned second team All-America honors and Hall was a second team All-ACC selection.

Hall was a two-time All-ACC performer and led the Yellow Jackets in tackles in 2004 and 2005. In 2005, Tech's linebackers recorded seven of the team's 21 interceptions.

In 2004, Jean-Mary worked with Reis, who earned honorable mention All-ACC recognition in his only season at outside linebacker. Wilkinson and Reis flourished at linebacker after moving from defensive end and safety, respectively.

Jean-Mary came to Tech after one season coaching the defensive backs at North Alabama, one of the top programs in NCAA Division II.

In 2003, he helped the Lions to a 13-1 record, the Gulf South Conference title and a berth in the semifinals of the NCAA Division II playoffs. North Alabama's defense ranked sixth nationally in scoring defense at 14.1 points per game, as well as 25th in pass defense and 26th in total defense.

Jean-Mary previously spent two years (2001-02) as a defensive graduate assistant at South Carolina under Lou Holtz and one year (2000) as a graduate assistant on the strength and conditioning staff at Louisville.

A native of Apopka, Fla., Jean-Mary played college football at Appalachian State, where he earned a bachelor's degree in 1998.

Jean-Mary is married to the former Jerilyn Ardis. The couple has two daughters, Brittany Nicole and Brooke Elizabeth.

Charles Kelly

CORNERBACKS ■ 4th SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH ■ AUBURN (1990)

Charles Kelly begins his fourth season at Georgia Tech and his second season as coach of the cornerbacks.

In Kelly's first season as the Yellow Jackets' cornerbacks coach, Georgia Tech recorded 18 interceptions, which tied for 15th nationally. Four different Tech cornerbacks recorded at least one interception, including true freshman Rashaad Reid with three. Reid was named second team Freshman All-America by three national media outlets.

Tech ranked in the top 30 nationally last season in total defense and scoring defense.

Kelly, a former defensive coordinator at three different schools, served as the Yellow Jackets' special teams coordinator in 2006 and 2007. He was instrumental in making Georgia Tech into one of the nation's best special teams units in 2007. That group went from 119th in the nation in kick return defense in 2006 to second in 2007. Under Kelly's guidance, punter Durant Brooks and place-kicker Travis Bell each earned first team All-ACC accolades. Brooks earned the prestigious Ray Guy Award in 2007 and recorded the highest career punting average in ACC history.

In Kelly's first year, in 2006, Brooks earned second-team All-America and first-team All-ACC honors. With the combination of Brooks and outstanding coverage, Tech ranked second in the nation in net punting. Brooks averaged better than 45 yards per punt, and almost half of his kicks pinned the opponent inside the 20-yard line.

Kelly spent the previous four seasons at Nicholls State, an NCAA Division I-AA program that captured the Southland Conference title in 2005.

Under Kelly, who served as defensive backs coach during his first two seasons at Nicholls, the Colonels finished as the top-ranked defense in the Southland Conference in 2005 and 17th in NCAA Division I-AA. Nicholls led the Southland in total defense and rushing defense while ranking second in scoring defense.

Kelly was instrumental in developing two-time All-America cornerback Chris Thompson, who was drafted in 2004 by the Jacksonville Jaguars.

Kelly went to Nicholls State in 2002 from Eufaula (Ala.) High School, where he served as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for two seasons. Prior to his move to the high school ranks, the Ozark, Ala., native spent one season (1999) as defensive coordinator at Henderson State and two seasons as defensive coordinator at Jacksonville State. His term as defensive coordinator at Jacksonville State culminated a five-year stay on the JSU staff (1994-98), and he also coordinated the offense and coached the defensive backs, running backs, quarterbacks and receivers over the course of his stay.

Before going to Jacksonville State, Kelly served one year as a graduate assistant at Auburn and was part of the Tigers' 11-0 season in 1993. He spent three seasons as an assistant football coach and baseball coach at Central High School in Phenix City, Ala. (1990-92).

Kelly has coached seven players that have made it to the National Football League, including Brooks, Thompson, Delvin Hugley, Calvin Jackson, Chris Schelling, Dell McGee and most recently, Jahi Word-Daniels.

A 1990 graduate of Auburn with a degree in Secondary Math Education, Kelly played defensive back under former Tiger coach Pat Dye. His senior class put together a four-year record of 39-7-2 while participating in four bowl games. In 2002, Kelly earned a master's degree in Education from Troy State.

Kelly, 41, and his wife, Kristy, have three daughters, Caroline, Kathleen and Charli Grace.

Jeff Monken

A-BACKS/SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR ■ 2nd SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH ■ MILLIKIN (1989)

Jeff Monken enters his 13th season as an assistant coach under Paul Johnson and his second year as coach of the A-backs and special teams coordinator at Georgia Tech.

Monken and the offensive staff installed the spread option offense in the spring of 2007 and the result was impressive. The Yellow Jackets led the ACC and ranked fourth nationally in rushing (273.3 ypg) and paced the ACC in total offense (372.5 ypg).

Monken's group of A-backs in 2008 included three freshmen and a sophomore. Redshirt freshman Roddy Jones was the national player of the week after rushing for 214 yards and two touchdowns in Tech's 45-42 win at Georgia.

Prior to his arrival in Atlanta, Monken spent six seasons as coach of the A-backs at Navy and also took on the responsibility of special teams coordinator in 2005. Monken was part of a staff that led Navy to success not seen in Annapolis in decades, while making the Midshipmen one of the nation's most prolific offenses. Navy won 43 games over Monken's last five seasons, advanced to five straight bowl games and earned five consecutive Commander-In-Chief's Trophies.

In 2007, Navy's offense put up remarkable numbers. The Midshipmen ranked first nationally in rushing (348.8 ypg), 10th in scoring (39.3 ppg), 22nd in total offense (444.1 ypg) and ninth in sacks allowed (1.08 pg).

The previous season in 2006, Navy averaged a then-school-record 327 yards rushing per game to lead the nation. The slots rushed for 1,619 yards and 13 touchdowns on just 196 carries (8.4 yards per carry) in 2006. Reggie Campbell set a single-season school record by averaging 7.1 yards per carry, and his career average of 7.9 yards per carry is third all-time at Navy.

In 2005, the Mids averaged a nation's-best 318.7 yards per contest as Navy won a school-record second-straight bowl game and captured the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy. As a unit, Monken's slot backs rushed for 1,399 yards and 19 touchdowns on just 169 carries (8.3 yards per carry) and caught 29 passes for 683 yards and four touchdowns (23.6 yards per reception). Campbell tied Barry Sanders, among others, in the NCAA record books when he scored five touchdowns in a bowl game as the Mids routed Colorado State, 51-30, to win the Poinsettia Bowl.

In 2004, the slot backs led the Midshipmen to finish 45th in the country in total offense (388.8 yards per game), third in rushing offense (289.5), win a school-record tying 10 games

(the most wins since 1905), win the Emerald Bowl and claim the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy in back-to-back years. One of Monken's pupils, Eric Roberts, became the first player in Navy history and just the 35th player in NCAA history to have more than 1,000 career rushing and receiving yards.

In 2003, Navy's slot backs were explosive, averaging 9.8 yards per carry and 21.8 yards per catch as the Mids led the nation in rushing (323.2 yards per contest) and set then-school records for rushing yards per game, total rushing yards (4,202), rushing yards per attempt (5.5), rushing touchdowns (44), total offense (5,506), total offense per game (423.5) and yards per play (6.0).

In 2002, Navy had the third-best rushing average in the country (270.75) and scored 30 or more points on four occasions.

Monken went to Navy from Georgia Southern, where he coached the slot backs. Georgia Southern was the top-ranked rushing team in the country in 1999 (419 yards per game) and 2001 (323.6 yards per game). He also headed up the Eagles' kickoff and punt return teams, as well as the punt team. Georgia Southern's punt team ranked fourth in the nation in 2001, averaging a net of 38.71 yards.

Monken has experienced a wide variety of duties throughout his career – beginning in 1989 as a graduate assistant at Hawai'i. After a one-year stint as a graduate assistant at Arizona State in 1991, he moved on to Buffalo, where he served as wide receivers and tight ends coach and was the recruiting coordinator. Prior to his arrival in Statesboro, he also served on the staffs at Morton (Ill.) High School (head coach) and Concordia (Ill.) University (offensive line).

Monken comes from a long line of coaches, as 12 members of his family have been or currently are high school or college football coaches. Monken's father, Mike, and his four brothers, were all high school head coaches at the same time in Illinois and were featured in Sports Illustrated.

The Joliet, Ill., native earned a bachelor's degree from Millikin in 1989, where he played wide receiver for four years and was a two-time letterwinner in track. In 1991, Monken earned his master's degree from the University of Hawai'i. Monken and his wife Beth have two daughters, Isabelle and Amelia.

Al "Buzz" Preston

WIDE RECEIVERS ■ 2nd SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH ■ HAWAII (1982)

Al "Buzz" Preston, who has enjoyed success from Honolulu to South Bend, begins his second season in Atlanta as Georgia Tech's wide receivers coach.

In Preston's first season with the Yellow Jackets, he helped sophomore Demaryius Thomas emerge as one of the ACC's top receivers. Thomas was among the league leaders in receptions (39) and yards per reception (16.1). In the 27-0 win over Duke, Thomas caught nine passes from true freshman quarterback Jaybo Shaw for 230 yards and a touchdown.

Preston came to Tech after serving one season at New Mexico, where he helped lead the Lobos to their first bowl victory in more than 45 years. As New Mexico's running backs coach in 2007, Preston coached Lobo junior running back Rodney Ferguson, who earned first team All-Mountain West Conference honors for the second straight year after rushing for 1,177 yards and 13 touchdowns.

Preston has 29 seasons of collegiate coaching experience, including two stints at Stanford (1999-2001, 2006). During his first three-year run with the Cardinal, Preston was part of two bowl teams that were also two of the best squads in Stanford history. He helped coach the Cardinal to the 1999 Pac-10 title on its way to the 2000 Rose Bowl. In 2001, Stanford put together a 9-3 record and was ranked among the top 10 teams in the nation during the year before playing in the Seattle Bowl against Georgia Tech.

Following his three seasons at Stanford, Preston went with coach Tyrone Willingham to Notre Dame for three more seasons (2002-04) to coach the running backs and serve as special teams coordinator. He helped lead the Irish to two bowl games with appearances in the Gator Bowl in 2002 and the Insight Bowl following the 2003 regular season.

Under Preston's tutelage, Julius Jones rushed for 1,268 yards and 10 touchdowns as a senior at Notre Dame in 2003. Jones also had 1,568 all-purpose yards and a school-record three 200-yard rushing games in '03 en route to honorable mention All-America honors. Jones went on to be selected in the second round of the 2004 NFL Draft by the Dallas Cowboys. In 2002, Irish running back Ryan Grant eclipsed the 1,000-yard mark as well.

Before coming to Stanford for the first time, Preston was the assistant head coach and offensive coordinator/QB coach at UNLV in 1998. Prior to that, he coached running backs at Washington State from 1994-97. During his four-year term at Washington State, Preston was part of a coaching staff that guided the Cougars to the Pacific-10 Conference championship in 1997 and its first Rose Bowl appearance in 67 years. The Cougar offense broke the Pac-10 record for most total yards in a single season.

One of Preston's pupils, Mike Black, gained 1,157 yards rushing and was named All-Pac 10. The Cougars finished 10-2 overall and were ranked ninth in the nation.

Preston also coached at his alma mater, Hawaii, from 1987-93, when he served on the same coaching staff with Paul Johnson. He had several roles during his tenure with the Rainbows, including coaching the offensive special teams, receivers and defensive backs, while also serving as the strength and conditioning liaison. Preston's seven-year stay at Hawaii was highlighted by the first two bowl games in school history and the first Western Athletic Conference title ever for the program. In 1989, Hawaii participated in its first bowl game, losing to Michigan State in the Aloha Bowl. The Rainbows won the WAC championship in 1992 and went on to defeat Illinois in the Holiday Bowl.

Preston's first full-time coaching job came at Southern Illinois from 1984-86 when he tutored receivers and the defensive backfield. During his three seasons in Carbondale, SIU's defense improved dramatically – from eighth to second in the conference – while nine of his pupils received all-conference recognition.

He was a graduate assistant at Hawaii in 1980 and 1981, a part-time coach at UH in 1982, and a graduate assistant at Washington in 1983. During his career, Preston has also been a guest coach for the Toronto Argonauts, Tampa Bay Buccaneers, Miami Dolphins and Philadelphia Eagles.

A native of Los Angeles, Preston received a bachelor's degree in Speech from Hawaii in 1982. He was a two-year letterwinner (1978-79) with the Rainbow football team. Preston is a 1975 graduate of Banning High School in Los Angeles. He and his wife, Audrey, have three children: Amber (22), Evan (19) and Quinn (10).

Mike Sewak

CO-OFFENSIVE LINE ■ 2nd SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH ■ VIRGINIA (1981)

Mike Sewak, who has coached on the college level for 25 years including four years as head coach at Georgia Southern, enters his second year at Georgia Tech as co-coach of the offensive line. Sewak works primarily with the guards and centers.

In Sewak's first season with the Yellow Jackets, he coached a youth-laden offensive line that had to quickly grasp Tech's new spread option offense and unique blocking scheme. The end result saw the Jackets lead the ACC and rank fourth nationally in rushing offense (273.2 ypg) and lead the ACC in total offense (372.5 ypg).

Two Yellow Jacket linemen – senior tackle Andrew Gardner (1st team) and junior guard Cord Howard (2nd team) – earned All-ACC honors in 2008.

Sewak, Johnson's offensive coordinator at Georgia Southern from 1997 to 2001, replaced Johnson as head coach of the Eagles in 2002. He produced a record of 35-14 as Georgia Southern's head coach and led the Eagles to three NCAA Division I-AA playoffs appearances and two Southern Conference championships. He was named the 2004 Southern Conference Coach of the Year.

In his first season as head coach in 2002, Sewak led Georgia Southern to the I-AA semifinals and within a last-second missed field goal of the national championship game. The Eagles finished the season with an 11-3 record, won the school's sixth consecutive league title and made their fifth straight national semifinals appearance. In addition, Sewak's offense led the nation in rushing, averaging 386.2 yards per game.

Georgia Southern followed with an uncharacteristic 7-4 mark in 2003, a season which saw Sewak valiantly sidestep adversity and numerous key injuries to guide GSU to victories in six of its last eight games and earn his second straight rushing title as a head coach with a 335.6 yards per game average.

Sewak put GSU back on track in 2004. Georgia Southern rolled through the regular season with an offensive juggernaut, averaging 47 points per game and winning eight games in a row between losses to I-AA Georgia and Southern Conference co-champion Furman, the No. 2 ranked team in I-AA.

While young on both sides of the ball in 2005, Georgia Southern led I-AA in rushing again. After a 1-2 start, the Eagles won seven of their last eight games to clinch an at-large playoff bid. The only loss during that stretch was to Appalachian State, the Southern Conference champion and the No. 2 seed in the I-AA playoffs.

Sewak also led the Eagles to a win over Furman when the Paladins were ranked No. 1 in the country. As offensive coordinator under Johnson at Georgia Southern from 1997 to 2001, Sewak's offensive unit consistently ranked as one of the nation's best at the NCAA Division I-AA level during the five-year span.

After finishing second in rushing offense, total offense and scoring offense in 1998, the Eagles improved to a first-place national standing in all three categories in 1999 – averaging 419.0 rushing yards, 551.7 total yards and 50.0 points per game. In all, as Georgia Southern's offensive coordinator from 1997 to 2001, the Eagles rolled to a 62-10 mark, scored 2,855 points (39.7 ppg), picked up 25,941 rushing yards (360.3 ypg), 7,816 passing yards (108.6 ypg) and 33,757 total yards (468.8 ypg). Sewak also played a key role in helping lead Georgia Southern to five straight Southern Conference championships and NCAA Division I-AA playoff appearances, three national championship games and two national titles in 1999 and 2000.

In addition, three Georgia Southern offensive linemen earned All-America honors under his direct guidance from 1997 to 2001. Guard Mark Williams, who also was the recipient of back-to-back Southern Conference Jacob's Blocking Trophies in '97 and '98, tackle Rich McGrath and center Matt Winslette all earned national honors under Sewak's leadership. During his time at Georgia Southern, Sewak took an active role in the community, serving as a member of the Parent-Teacher Organization (PTO) in the Bulloch County (Ga.) School District. He kept ties with the Special Olympics program, serving as a volunteer in various capacities. He also instilled a community relations leadership role for his players who spent many lunch and reading sessions with children at Statesboro's Mill Creek Elementary School and donated their time to the March of Dimes Walk America and "Operation Cleanup".

Sewak was appointed as the honorary chairperson of the Keep Bulloch Beautiful campaign in February, 2002, and was selected to a similar capacity for the 2003 Bulloch County's Walk America in January.

Prior to his second stint at Georgia Southern, Sewak helped turn around a struggling program at Ohio University as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach under current Wake Forest head coach Jim Grobe in 1995 and 1996. The Bobcats, after going 0-11 prior to Sewak's arrival, went 2-8-1 in '95 before posting a 6-6 record in 1996 – the school's best mark since 1982. Sewak directed an offensive unit which ranked first in the Mid-America Conference in rushing with a 274.0 per game average.

Prior to Ohio, Sewak spent eight years as an assistant coach at Hawaii, where he coached the Warriors' offensive line for seven seasons and the wide receivers for one. During his tenure in Honolulu, Hawaii won the 1992 Western Athletic Conference championship, broke more than 150 offensive records, and finished among the nation's offensive leaders each year, averaging 31.7 points and 418 yards per game.

Sewak's first stint at Georgia Southern came as an assistant coach with the Eagles in 1985 and 1986 when he worked under coach Erk Russell. Sewak coached the running backs and the defensive backs on national championship teams in 1985 and 1986, respectively. The Eagles captured their first two NCAA Division I-AA titles those seasons, recording consecutive 13-2 records.

Sewak's first association with Georgia Tech came in 1984 when he served as a graduate assistant tight ends coach under head coach Bill Curry.

A native of Johnstown, Pa., Sewak began his career in 1982 at Hobart (N.Y.) College where he served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach.

A three-year letterman as an offensive lineman at Virginia, Sewak earned a degree in psychology from UVA in 1981. He was invited to tryouts with the Baltimore Colts and Pittsburgh Steelers after the completion of his collegiate playing eligibility. Sewak added a Masters degree in the spring of 2008 from Georgia Southern.

He and his wife, the former Robin Farmery of Marietta, Ga., are the parents of three children – Michael Robert, Olivia and Nicholas.

Giff Smith

DEFENSIVE LINE/RECRUITING COORDINATOR ■ 6th SEASON AT TECH ■ GEORGIA SOUTHERN (1991)

Giff Smith, who has developed a national reputation as an outstanding recruiter and defensive coach, enters his sixth season at Georgia Tech as defensive line coach and fourth season as recruiting coordinator. He is also reunited with Paul Johnson, whom he worked with at Georgia Southern a decade ago.

Smith's defensive line was one of the best units in college football in 2008. All four starters earned All-ACC honors including Michael Johnson (1st team), Vance Walker (1st team), Darryl Richard (2nd team) and Derrick Morgan (honorable mention). Johnson, Walker and Richard were all selected in the NFL draft. Johnson was also named a first team All-American (AFCA).

Tech's defense ranked in the top 30 nationally in rushing defense (24th), total defense (25th) and scoring defense (28th) in 2008.

In 2007, Georgia Tech ranked first nationally in sacks and second in tackles-for-loss while ranking in the top 30 in rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense. Walker earned first team All-ACC honors and senior end Darrell Robertson was a second team selection. Richard was second team Academic All-American.

Also in 2007, Smith watched eight true freshmen that he helped recruit play key roles as rookies. Running back Jonathan Dwyer and quarterback Josh Nesbitt, two highly-recruited Georgians, highlighted one of the nation's top recruiting classes.

In each of Smith's five seasons at Tech, the Yellow Jackets have ranked in the top 30 nationally in rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense. The Georgia Tech defense has been exceptionally strong against the run, ranking in the top 20 nationally four of the past five seasons.

In 2006, two of Smith's defensive linemen made the All-ACC team. Tackle Joe Anoai was a first team selection, and end Adamm Oliver earned second team honors. In 2003-04, Smith worked with All-ACC defensive end Eric Henderson, the Yellow Jackets' all-time leader in tackles-for-loss.

Smith came to Tech in 2004 after five seasons at Tulane, where he coached the Green Wave's defensive line all five years while serving as recruiting coordinator his last three years. He also held the title of associate head coach.

Smith has strong ties to the state of Georgia. A native of the Atlanta suburb of Mableton, he attended Pebblebrook High School and then played and coached at Georgia Southern.

A 1991 graduate of Georgia Southern, Smith was a member of three NCAA I-AA national championship teams at the school in 1986, 1989 and 1990. A three-time All-America defensive end, he helped the Eagles to a perfect 15-0 mark in 1989, and as a senior in 1990, he served as team captain.

He later spent three seasons at his alma mater, working with the wide receivers in 1996 and then the secondary under Johnson in 1997-98. During his time on the staff, the Eagles won a pair of Southern Conference titles (1997-98) and advanced to the NCAA I-AA national championship game in 1998.

Smith began his coaching career in 1991 as a graduate assistant at Arkansas, where he remained three years before moving to Georgia for two seasons.

Smith was inducted into the Georgia Southern University Athletic Hall of Fame in 2000. He is married to the former Jennifer Erickson. The couple has two children, Ava and Sam.

Todd Spencer

CO-OFFENSIVE LINE ■ 2nd SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH ■ PACIFIC LUTHERAN (1979)

Todd Spencer begins his 26th year of coaching and his second season at Georgia Tech as coach of the offensive line, with a primary focus on the tackle position.

In Spencer's first season at Tech, he helped a young offensive line learn a completely new offensive system and blocking scheme. Despite injuries to both senior starters at tackle, the Yellow Jackets led the ACC and ranked fourth nationally in rushing offense (272.2 ypg) and first in the ACC in total offense (372.5 ypg).

Senior tackle Andrew Gardner earned first team All-ACC honors and was selected in the NFL draft by the Miami Dolphins. Junior guard Cord Howard earned second team All-ACC honors.

In the summer of 2008, Spencer was named one of the nation's top five offensive line coaches by CBSSports.com.

Spencer came to Georgia Tech after 11 seasons at the Naval Academy, including six seasons under head coach Paul Johnson. Spencer saw firsthand the remarkable turnaround of the Midshipmen football program. Over Spencer's final four seasons in Annapolis, Navy won 35 games, advanced to a postseason bowl game four consecutive years and won a school-record four straight Commander-In-Chief's Trophies.

In 2007, Spencer helped Navy produce amazing numbers. The Midshipmen ranked first nationally in rushing (348.8 ypg), 10th in scoring (39.3 ppg), 22nd in total offense (444.1 ypg) and Spencer's offensive line allowed just 1.08 sacks per game, which ranked ninth nationally.

Spencer teamed up with Ken Niumatalolo, Johnson's successor at Navy, in 2006 to coach an offensive line that helped pave the way for the nation's top rushing offense for the third time in five seasons.

In 2005, Spencer was part of a staff that helped the Mids average a nation's-best 318.7 yards per contest, as Navy won a then-school-record second-straight bowl game and claimed the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy.

In 2004, Spencer helped an offensive line that was hampered by injuries all year to perform well enough for the Midshipmen to finish third in the country in rushing (289.5), win a school-record tying 10 games (the most wins since 1905), win the Emerald Bowl and capture the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy in back-to-back years.

Navy's offensive line was key in the NCAA record 26-play, 94-yard, 14:26 epic drive in the Emerald Bowl. Offensive guard August Roitsch was named to the Sports Illustrated All-Bowl Team, while the starting offensive line was selected to the College Football News All-Bowl Team.

In 2003, despite a lack of experience up front, the Mids led the nation in rushing (323.2 ypg) and set school records for rushing yards per game, total rushing yards (4,202), rushing yards per attempt (5.5), rushing touchdowns (44), total offense (5,506), total offense per game (423.5) and yards per play (6.0) as Navy went 8-5, won the Commander-In-Chief's Trophy and earned a berth in the Houston Bowl.

In 2002, Spencer developed Derek Jaskowiak into a College Football News All-Independent selection and an Honorable Mention All-East performer. Jaskowiak was also selected to participate in the Hula Bowl All-Star Game. In 2000, Spencer saw pupil Hoot Stahl invited to play in the Blue-Gray All-Star Game.

Spencer brought a vast knowledge of the option attack to Annapolis after spending six seasons as the offensive line coach at option-oriented Oregon State. In 1993, Oregon State's rushing offense finished second in the nation, averaging 300.6 yards per game.

Known for his intensity on the field, Spencer has also been the offensive line coach at Northern Illinois (1990) and Texas-El Paso (1989), and was the offensive coordinator at Southern Utah (1988) and Trinity Valley Community College (1986-87). He got into the major college ranks as a graduate assistant (defensive backs) for Rich Brooks at Oregon (1984-85) and was a graduate assistant (offensive line) for Fred Akers at Texas (1985-86).

A native of Beaverton, Ore., Spencer attended Whitworth College in Spokane, Wash., from 1974-76, and was a defensive back under Hugh Campbell, a former head coach of the Houston Oilers. He then transferred to Pacific Lutheran (1977-79), where he played safety for two years. Spencer earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Pacific Lutheran (1979) and his M.A. from Linfield College in physical education in 1981.

He is the father of two daughters, Whitney and Ashley.

Dave Wommack

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR ■ 2nd SEASON AT GEORGIA TECH ■ MISSOURI SOUTHERN (1978)

Dave Wommack, a veteran with 29 years of collegiate coaching experience, begins his second season at Georgia Tech as the Yellow Jackets' defensive coordinator and coach of the safeties.

In Wommack's first season, the Yellow Jacket defense ranked in the top 30 nationally in rushing defense (24th), total defense (25th) and scoring defense (28th). Tech's defense recorded 18 interceptions – 13 more than the Yellow Jackets had the previous season – and forced 20 turnovers, which ranked 20th nationally.

Five Yellow Jacket defenders earned All-ACC honors in 2008, and sophomore safety Morgan Burnett emerged as a second team All-American.

Wommack came to Atlanta after serving one season as linebackers coach at Southern Mississippi. Wommack helped lead Southern Miss to an appearance in the 2007 Papajohns.com bowl after a 7-5 regular season. The Golden Eagles led Conference USA in scoring defense and ranked second or third in the league in total defense, rushing defense, pass efficiency defense, pass defense and sacks.

Wommack served on the coaching staff at South Carolina under Steve Spurrier as secondary coach in 2005 and outside linebackers coach in '06. His final year in Columbia the Gamecocks went 8-5 and defeated Houston, 44-36, in the Liberty Bowl.

Prior to South Carolina, he spent a four-year stint at Arkansas from 2001-04, including the last three years as the defensive coordinator. He also coached the secondary, free safeties, cornerbacks and inside linebackers. The Razorbacks made appearances in the Independence Bowl (2003), Music City Bowl (2002) and Cotton Bowl (2001).

Wommack's first of two stints at Southern Miss came during a seven-year span from 1994-2000, one of the most successful periods in Golden Eagle history. He was the defensive coordinator and assistant head coach in 1999 and 2000. He coached the outside linebackers in 2000, the middle and strong-side linebackers in 1999 and defensive backs from 1994-98.

Southern Miss was a founding member of Conference USA in 1996 and won three of the first four championships (1996, 1997 and 1999). The Golden Eagles made four straight bowl appearances from 1997-00, winning the 1997 and 1999 Liberty Bowls, and the 2000 GMAC Bowl. All-Americans Cedric Scott and Leo Barnes were the defensive leaders.

As defensive coordinator, the USM 2000 defense finished second in the nation in total defense, eighth in scoring defense, fifth in pass defense and fourth in pass efficiency defense. The Golden Eagles collected an 8-4 record and won the GMAC Bowl, 28-21, over No. 13 TCU.

His 1999 defense was No. 7 in the nation in turnover margin and No. 8 in rushing defense, scoring defense and total defense. All-American Adalius Thomas and T.J. Slaughter were the defensive leaders. Southern Miss posted a 9-3 record that season, won its second C-USA title and won the Liberty Bowl, 23-17, over Colorado State.

The 1998 Southern Miss squad ranked 18th nationally in scoring defense, finished with a 7-5 record and made an appearance in the Humanitarian Bowl. The 1997 Golden Eagle squad posted a 9-3 record and won the second Conference USA championship. Southern Miss defeated Pitt, 41-7, in the Liberty Bowl, the first bowl game for the Golden Eagles since 1990. All-American cornerback and C-USA Defensive Player of the Year Patrick Surtain ranked 10th in the nation in interceptions and was drafted No. 44 in the NFL Draft. Defensive back Jamaal Alexander was a sixth-round pick.

The 1996 defense ranked No. 3 nationally in turnover margin and No. 8 in rushing defense. Southern Miss ranked seventh nationally in interceptions with 18. The Golden Eagles posted an 8-3 record and shared the conference title with Houston.

During his first season at Southern Miss in 1994, the Golden Eagle secondary ranked second in the nation with 25 interceptions. Those interceptions contributed to the Golden Eagles' national-best 41 takeaways.

He also coached at UNLV as defensive coordinator from 1992-93, Southwest Missouri State as defensive coordinator from 1986-91, Bemidji State as defensive coordinator in 1985, two years as defensive line coach at Missouri, 1983-84, and four years at Arkansas (1979-82) as a graduate assistant, assistant strength and conditioning coach and the last two years as the wide receivers coach.

While at Missouri, the Tigers appeared in the Holiday Bowl (1983). The Razorbacks made it to four straight bowl games while Wommack was on staff – the 1980 Sugar Bowl, 1980 Hall of Fame Bowl, 1981 Gator Bowl and the 1982 Bluebonnet Bowl.

A 1974 graduate of Reeds Springs (Mo.) High School, Wommack was a three-year letterwinner (center) at Missouri Southern. He graduated with a bachelor's degree from Missouri Southern in 1978 and his master's degree from Arkansas in 1979.

The Kimberling City, Mo., native and his wife, the former Leslie Ann Wilkins, have two children, Kane and Hayley.

TOM CONNER

Tom Conner is in his 18th season as Georgia Tech's Equipment Manager.

A certified athletic equipment manager, Conner is responsible for procuring and maintaining all equipment and uniforms for the football program and also assists in ordering gear for Tech's other sports programs.

Conner came to Tech in 1992 after four years as the equipment manager at the United States Naval Academy. He also has experience at the professional level after serving four years (1982-86) as the head equipment manager for the Birmingham Stallions of the United States Football League.

He then worked one year (1987) as Assistant Equipment Manager at Duke University before moving to Navy in 1988. Conner also spent two years as assistant equipment manager at the University of Missouri.

Conner earned his bachelor of science degree in physical education in 1980 from the University of Alabama, where he worked four years as a student manager for football.

Conner, who completed a two-year seat as a member of the Schutt Manufacturers Advisory Board, was honored as the AEMA District III Equipment Manager of the Year for 1997-98.

A native of Signal Mountain, Tenn., Conner is married to the former Pamela Bushman, and the couple has a 13-year-old son.

FOOTBALL OFFICE ASSISTANT
2nd Season at Georgia Tech
South Carolina (2003)
J.R. DORMAN

J.R. Dorman, a former assistant coach at Wittenberg University, begins his second year at Georgia Tech as a football office assistant.

At Wittenberg, Dorman coached wide receivers for two years, helping the Red and White to records of 7-4 in 2006 and 8-2 in 2007.

The grandson of Robert Dorman, a Wittenberg football letterwinner in 1938 and 1939, J.R. Dorman spent the 2005 season as an assistant at Denison, working primarily with the linebackers.

A graduate of the University of South Carolina, Dorman got his professional start with the National Football League's Houston Texans in 2004, serving as an intern on the staff of Dom Capers. With the Texans, Dorman worked primarily in the scouting department, in addition to some duties with the defense. Prior to his stint with the Texans he spent five years under Lou Holtz at South Carolina as a student assistant, gaining experience in a wide range of areas, including defensive backs, special teams and recruiting. Dorman majored in sports administration at South Carolina.

ATHLETIC TRAINER

Georgia Tech (1996)
CLAY FARR

Clay Farr enters his 10th overall year at Georgia Tech, his alma mater.

Farr, who has worked two different stints on The Flats, assists head athletic trainer Jay Shoop with all athletic training duties relating to the football program. He also oversees athletic training for the baseball program and assists in the day-to-day care of all Yellow Jacket student-athletes.

Farr's first association with Georgia Tech came as a student, from 1992-96, when he worked as a student trainer for the Yellow Jacket football and men's basketball programs.

Following his graduation from Georgia Tech in 1996, Farr spent two years as a graduate assistant at Clemson, working with the Tigers' men's soccer team. He obtained his graduate degree from Clemson in 1998.

A native of Ware Shoals, S.C., Farr served an internship in 1996 with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He is currently in a pool of athletic trainers for U.S. Soccer and he has previously worked with the U.S. national team.

Farr is a huge follower of international soccer, having attended games in eight different countries. Farr and his dog, Fixxxer, reside in Atlanta.

GRADUATE ASSISTANT COACH
5th Season at Georgia Tech
West Alabama (2004)
BRETT GILLILAND

Brett Gilliland enters his fifth year at Georgia Tech and his fourth season as a graduate assistant coach and will work with the B-backs in 2009.

Gilliland began his career at Georgia Tech as assistant director of football operations in 2005. In 2006, he moved into a coaching role for a Yellow Jacket team that played in the ACC Championship game. Gilliland worked with Tech's wide receivers, including All-American and Biletnikoff Award winner Calvin Johnson.

In 2007, Gilliland continued to work with the Yellow Jacket offense, primarily with the quarterbacks.

Before coming to Georgia Tech, Gilliland spent one season as wide receivers coach at his alma mater, West Alabama.

Gilliland was a standout quarterback at West Alabama, where he played in 42 games, including 27 as a starter. In 2002, Gilliland passed for a school-record 3,213 yards to lead the Gulf South Conference in passing while earning all-conference honors.

In 2003, Gilliland was a regional finalist for the Harlon Hill Trophy. He finished his career as the owner of West Alabama career records for passing yards (6,689), completion percentage (.591) and total offense (6,847 yards).

Gilliland earned a degree from West Alabama in 2004, majoring in physical education and minoring in business administration. Gilliland (born June 2, 1981) is a native of Pensacola, Fla. He and wife, Amanda, reside in Atlanta.

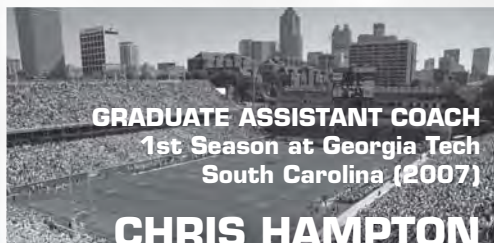

Todd McCarthy enters his 12th season at Georgia Tech as Director of Video Operations after joining the Tech staff in the spring of 1998.

McCarthy handles all practice, game and opponents' video for the coaching staff while overseeing Tech's video operations.

In 2005, the Tech video department received the SAVVY Award from the Collegiate Sports Video Association for the year's top highlight video. McCarthy is a three-time winner of the Atlantic Coast Conference Video Director of the Year award.

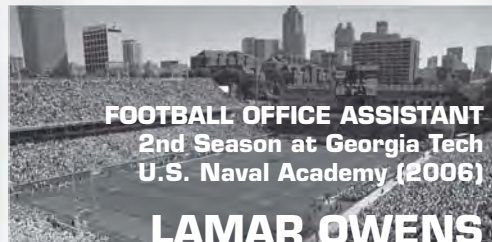

McCarthy spent two years (1996-98) as Director of Sports Video at the University of Pittsburgh and three years (1993-96) in the same capacity at the University of Richmond. He also worked two years as a videographer and editor in the sports department at WRIC-TV, the ABC affiliate in Richmond, Va.

A native of Richmond, Va., McCarthy earned his bachelor's degree in Broadcast Communications from Virginia Commonwealth University in 1992.

Chris Hampton enters his first season as a graduate assistant coach at Georgia Tech. A four-year letterwinner (2004-08) and three-year starter at South Carolina, Hampton's duties include assisting the defensive coaching staff, specifically coach Giff Smith and the defensive line, while helping break down film, produce opponent scouting reports and organize the scout team.

Prior to Tech, Hampton served as a graduate assistant at Arkansas State during the 2008 season. He went to ASU after earning a degree in Criminal Justice at South Carolina in 2007. A native of Memphis, Tenn., Hampton attended Melrose High School where he lettered in football and track & field, and served as senior class President.

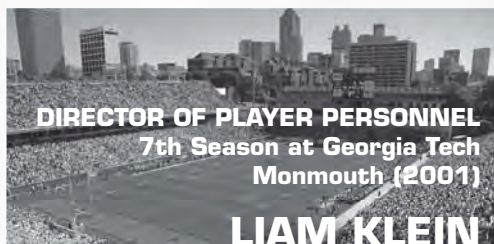

Lamar Owens, who played for Paul Johnson at the U.S. Naval Academy, enters his second year at Georgia Tech as a football office assistant.

A native of Savannah, Ga., Owens graduated from Benedictine Military School in 2002 before moving on to the Naval Academy.

The co-captain directed Navy to an 8-4 campaign and a San Diego Credit Union Poinsettia Bowl victory over Colorado State in 2005.

Owens rushed for 122 yards on 19 carries in his first career start to become just the 14th Navy quarterback to rush for over 100 yards in a game and just the third Mids QB to eclipse 100 yards rushing in his first start.

Owens rushed for 880 yards and 11 touchdowns, while throwing for 1,299 yards and six touchdowns his senior campaign. He won the Joe Bellino Award as the team's leading rusher and the E.E. "Rip" Miller Award as the season's most valuable player, as voted on by his teammates. Owens set two single-season and two career individual records and finished his career with 1,009 rushing yards.

Liam Klein, a member of the Georgia Tech staff since 2003, enters his third year as the Yellow Jacket Director of Player Personnel.

Klein directs Tech's coaching clinics, camps and other events while administering the Jackets' on-campus recruiting efforts and serving as the team's academic liaison.

Klein served as a graduate assistant for three seasons, working with the Yellow Jackets' nationally-ranked defense, before being promoted in 2007. In addition to preparing scouting reports and coordinating the scout team, he helped coach linebackers in 2006 after assisting with the defensive line in 2004-05. During his three seasons as a graduate assistant, Tech's defense ranked in the top 30 in the nation in total defense, scoring defense, rushing defense and pass efficiency defense.

Klein originally came to Tech prior to the 2003 season and spent six months as assistant director of football operations before moving to the coaching staff.

Klein also has two years of coaching experience at the NCAA I-AA level, serving as outside linebackers and safeties coach for Harvard in 2002 and defensive line coach for Lafayette College in 2001.

A native of Norwood, N.J., Klein started three years on the offensive line for Division I-AA Monmouth University. He earned a bachelor's degree from Monmouth in education and interdisciplinary in history and political science in 2001.

Topher Roberts begins his first season at Georgia Tech as Assistant Director of Football Operations. Roberts' duties include organization of team travel, spring and pre-season training camp, and assisting with the day to day operations of the program.

Roberts joined the Yellow Jacket staff in the spring after working four years (2005-09) with the Atlanta Falcons as Travel Logistics Manager. While working for the Falcons, Roberts also served simultaneously as Football Operations Manager for the Georgia Force, the Atlanta arena football team.

Previous stops for Roberts included an internship with NFL Europe's Berlin Thunder in 2004, the Southern Conference and the University of North Carolina football office.

A 2003 North Carolina graduate with a degree in communication studies, Roberts served as a placekicker for the Tar Heel football team from 2001-03. Roberts earned two varsity letters and was awarded a scholarship prior to his senior season.

DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDICINE
20th Season at Georgia Tech
East Tennessee State (1970)

JAY SHOOP

Jay Shoop, a 40-year veteran of the sports medicine profession, returned to Georgia Tech in 2002 as director of sports medicine after a year as head trainer for the Detroit Lions.

Shoop, who oversees all areas of the sports medicine program for the Yellow Jackets' 17 varsity sports, previously served as Tech's director of sports medicine and head trainer from 1987-1999.

Shoop, 61, first came to Tech in 1987 after a two-year stint as head trainer for the NFL's Tampa Bay Buccaneers. He also served two years (1983-84) as head trainer of the Michigan Panthers of the USFL, and seven seasons as an assistant trainer for the Atlanta Falcons.

A native of Wise, Va., Shoop earned a B.S. degree from East Tennessee State University in 1970 and a master's degree in 1976 from Furman, where he was head trainer for six years (1970-76).

Shoop served as the chief trainer for the Olympic Village for the 1996 Centennial Olympic Games and as the head trainer for the 1994 Goodwill Games in St. Petersburg, Russia.

An avid collector of historical sports memorabilia, Shoop authored the official history of the Southeastern Athletic Trainers Association in 1988.

Shoop is married to the former Anne Brockman. The couple has two children: Farrah, a Tech graduate and husband Corey Gamel, and Lynn and wife Meredith. The Shoops have two grandchildren, Logan and Summer.

in 1999 with a degree in Political Science. As a Midshipman, Snider was a three-year varsity letterwinner and starting defensive tackle on the 1996 Aloha Bowl team. He later went on to become the 1998 defensive captain and member of the Annapolis Touch-down Club.

Following graduation, Snider served as the communications officer aboard USS Robert G Bradley and Officer of the Deck aboard USS Harry S. Truman. On March 20, 2003, Snider was the acting Officer of the Deck aboard the Truman when the United States launched initial attacks against Iraq.

After his service in the Eastern Mediterranean Sea, Snider returned to the Naval Academy and worked on Paul Johnson's staff for two years, serving as director of football operations and assistant defensive line coach. In 2004, he helped mentor a Navy team that finished 10-2 and earned a win over New Mexico in the 2004 Emerald Bowl in San Francisco.

Prior to his arrival at Georgia Tech, Snider served as the athletic director at Jackson High School in Jackson, Ohio. In July of 2007, he was appointed to Rio Grande Community College's Board of Trustees. He is the owner of The Annapolis Co. and Mound Hill Farms Outfitter.

ASSISTANT EQUIPMENT MANAGER
7th Season at Georgia Tech
Georgia Tech (1994)

PUNT WINDHAM

Punt Windham, coordinator of football equipment, begins his sixth season at Georgia Tech.

Windham, a certified equipment manager, handles the day-to-day operations of the football equipment room including handling and ordering equipment and uniforms, maintenance of equipment and travel logistics of the equipment.

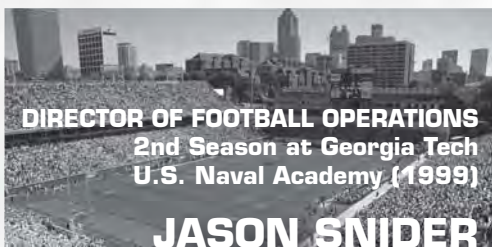

Since coming back to his alma mater in 2003, Windham has been a part of six straight bowl appearances with the Yellow Jackets.

Prior to working at Georgia Tech, Windham served eight years at the University of Texas, where he served as head baseball equipment manager and assistant football equipment manager.

While in Austin, Windham worked with the Longhorn baseball team that captured the 2002 NCAA championship and also appeared in the 2000 College World Series.

Windham graduated from Georgia Tech in 1994 with a degree in industrial engineering. He worked as a student manager for the Yellow Jacket football team, which captured a share of the national championship in 1990.

Windham, 36, grew up in Lilburn, Ga., and currently resides in Stone Mountain, Ga. Windham is an avid golfer and angler.

DIRECTOR OF FOOTBALL OPERATIONS
2nd Season at Georgia Tech
U.S. Naval Academy (1999)

JASON SNIDER

Jason Snider is in his second year as Georgia Tech's Director of Football Operations. Snider, 33, came to Tech in January of 2008 as assistant director of football operations and was promoted to the director of operations seven months later.

A native of McArthur, Ohio, Snider received an appointment to the U.S. Naval Academy from Ohio Governor Ted Strickland. Snider went on to graduate from the Academy

Dr. G.P. "Bud" Peterson

PRESIDENT

1st YEAR AT GEORGIA TECH ■ KANSAS STATE (1975)

In April 2009, following a unanimous vote by the University System of Georgia Board of Regents, Dr. G. P. "Bud" Peterson became the 11th president of the Georgia Institute of Technology. In this capacity he oversees a top-ten public research university with more than 19,000 students and more than $500 million in sponsored funding.

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agenda, serving on numerous industry, government, and academic task forces and committees.

A distinguished scientist, Peterson was selected in 2008 by President George W. Bush to serve on the National Science Board through 2014. The Board oversees the National Science Foundation (NSF) and advises the President and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education.

Peterson earned a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering in 1975, a bachelor's degree in mathematics in 1977, and a master's degree in mechanical engineering in 1980, all from Kansas State University. He also earned a doctorate in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University in 1985.

In 1981 and 1982, Peterson served as a visiting research scientist at the NASA Johnson Space Center. In 1985, he joined the faculty of the Mechanical Engineering Department at Texas A&M, where he conducted research and taught courses in thermodynamics and heat transfer.

In 1990 he was named the Halliburton Professor of Mechanical Engineering and in 1991 was named the College of Engineering's Tenneco Professor. In 1993, Peterson was invited to serve as program director for the NSF's Thermal Transport and Thermal Processing Division, where he received the NSF Award for Outstanding Management.

From June 1993 through July 1996, he served as head of the Department of Mechanical Engineering at Texas A&M University and in 1996 was appointed executive associate dean of the College of Engineering, where he also served as associate vice chancellor for Engineering for the Texas A&M University System. Previous leadership positions Peterson has held include provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York and chancellor of the University of Colorado at Boulder.

He also has served as a member of a number of congressional task forces, research councils, and advisory boards, including the Office of Naval Research, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the Department of Energy, the National Research Council, and the National Academy of Engineering.

Most recently, Peterson served as a member of the Board of Directors and vice president for Education for the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA). He is currently serving on a number of national accreditation agencies including the American Association of Colleges & Universities, the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, and the New England Association of Schools and Colleges, with a focus on improving and assessing outcomes for higher education.

A fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the AIAA, Peterson is the author or co-author of 14 books or book chapters, 165 referred journal articles, and more than 140 conference publications. He also holds eight patents. Having served as editor or associate editor for eight different journals, he is currently serving on the editorial advisory board of two others. He is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, Tau Beta Pi, Sigma Xi, and Phi Kappa Phi.

Professional society awards include the Ralph James and the O. L. "Andy" Lewis awards from ASME, the Dow Outstanding Young Faculty Award from the American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE), the Pi Tau Sigma Gustus L. Larson Memorial Award from ASME, the AIAA Thermophysics Award, the ASME Memorial Award, the AIAA Sustained Service Award, and the Frank J. Malina Award from the International Astronautical Society.

Peterson was born September 1, 1952, in San Francisco, California, and raised in Prairie Village, a suburb of Kansas City, Kansas. He and his wife, Val, have four adult children.

Dan Radakovich

DIRECTOR OF ATHLETICS4th YEAR AT GEORGIA TECH ■ INDIANA, PA. (1980)

In his fourth year as Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics, Dan Radakovich has brought a new vision for excellence to the Yellow Jackets' storied athletics tradition. In a relatively short amount of time since arriving in Atlanta, Radakovich has put his mark on Georgia Tech's athletics program.

The 2008-09 academic year at Georgia Tech was one of unprecedented athletic success.

One year after hiring Paul Johnson as head football coach, Georgia Tech surprised the experts by winning nine games, tying for the ACC Coastal Division title and playing in a 12th consecutive bowl game. The Yellow Jackets, who beat 13th-ranked Georgia and two other ranked teams in November, played in the Chick-fil-A Bowl and were ranked 22nd in the final national polls.

The women's basketball team registered its third straight 20-win season and earned an NCAA Tournament bid for the third consecutive year. The baseball team finished ranked in the top 25 and hosted an NCAA Tournament Regional. The softball team swept the ACC regular season and tournament titles, won 46 games and hosted its first NCAA Super Regional.

The golf team captured the ACC championship, advanced to the NCAA Championships and finished ranked seventh nationally. The men's swimming and diving team enjoyed its best NCAA Championships finish ever (19th) and the women's team broke 10 school records. Women's tennis finished ranked 8th nationally and advanced in the NCAA Tournament round of 16. In men's track, Jerome Miller (high jump) and Steve Marcelle (shot put) turned in record-breaking performances en route to earning All-American honors.

Facilities received major upgrades in 2008-09. Shirley Clements Mewborn Field, the new home for Tech's softball program, was unveiled prior to the start of the 2009 season and was ultimately showcased on ESPN when the Yellow Jackets hosted an NCAA Super Regional. The Zelnak Center, a new practice facility for Georgia Tech basketball, will be in place prior to the start of the 2009-10 season. Bobby Dodd Stadium will receive several cosmetic upgrades, featuring a new video board that will be in place this fall.

Tech student-athletes are performing in the classroom as well. The Annual Progress Report (APR), released by the NCAA in April, showed that seven Yellow Jacket teams earned a perfect score of 1,000 for the 2007-08 year.

The 2007-08 academic year featured the hiring of Johnson as head football coach, women's basketball emerging as one of the top programs in the South, baseball advancing to the NCAA Regionals and women's tennis advancing to the Elite Eight of the NCAA Tournament. Individually, Amanda McDowell won the NCAA singles title in women's tennis.

The 2006-07 year was highlighted by Tech's women's tennis team capturing the Institute's first-ever NCAA championship and its third straight Atlantic Coast Conference title. The football team won the ACC Coastal Division and went to its 10th straight bowl game, the men's basketball team earned its third NCAA Tournament bid in four years, the women's basketball team posted its finest season with 21 wins and a berth in the NCAA Tournament, and the golf team won a share of the ACC title for the second straight year.

Outside the competition venues, Radakovich has directed an overhaul of the annual giving and donation structure for Tech athletics, anchored by the TECH Fund, which establishes minimum giving levels tied to season tickets in various seating areas of Bobby Dodd Stadium and Alexander Memorial Coliseum. Several facility upgrades have been completed, including the transformation of Tech's former football locker room on the ground floor of the Edge Athletic Center into a new Technology Center, which benefits academic support services for all Yellow Jacket student-athletes.

Radakovich also initiated the Athletic Director's Initiative Fund, started in June, 2006, which has raised in cash and pledges more than $12 million. A recent gift from the Henry F. McCamish, Jr., family for the renovation of Alexander Memorial Coliseum, could be worth up to $15 million toward that project.

Named Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics on February 22, 2006, Radakovich possesses nearly two decades of experience in collegiate athletics management positions. He came to Georgia Tech after five years as senior associate athletics director at LSU (2001-06), and he previously served as the Athletics Director at American University in 2000-01. That followed stints as associate athletics director at South Carolina (1994-2000) and Long Beach State (1989-94) as well as two years as the athletics business manager at Miami (FL) (1983-85).

Just the seventh Director of Athletics in Tech history, Radakovich was named by then-Institute President Dr. Wayne Clough to succeed Dave Braine, who retired after nearly nine years in the post. Radakovich also follows in the footsteps of storied names such as John Heisman, Bobby Dodd and Homer Rice.

A graduate of Center High School near Aliquippa, Pa., and a member of its Alumni Hall of Fame, Radakovich, 51, became a football letterwinner and student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. He was enshrined into the Beaver County Sports Hall of Fame last year and was recognized as a Distinguished Alumni from IUP in March, 2009.

Radakovich added a master's degree in business administration from Miami (FL) in 1982. He also completed the Sports Management Institute's executive education program in 1992.

He is married to the former Marcie McDonald, and the couple has two children, Christian (19) and Grant (15). Christian is a sophomore at Georgia Tech.

DR. SUE ANN BIDSTRUP ALLEN

Dr. Sue Ann Bidstrup Allen, a professor in the School of Chemical and Biomolecular Engineering at Georgia Tech, was appointed as the Yellow Jackets' Faculty Executive Assistant in July 2009.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen received her S.B. in Chemical Engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1981. She then attended the University of Minnesota and received her Ph.D. in the field of Chemical Engineering in 1986. After a post-doctoral appointment in the Electrical Engineering Department at MIT, Dr. Bidstrup Allen joined Georgia Tech as an assistant professor in the School of Chemical Engineering in 1988, was appointed to the position of associate professor in 1994 and to the position of professor in 2000. She served as the Associate Chair of the School of Chemical Engineering from 2004 to 2005. In 2005, she was named Faculty Executive Assistant to the President by Dr. G. Wayne Clough and continued to serve in this position under Interim President Gary B. Schuster and President G.P. "Bud" Peterson until August 2009.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen's main research focus is in the area of new materials and processes for microelectromechanical systems (MEMS) and for advanced interconnects for integrated circuits. She has advised nine postdoctoral fellows and has graduated 19 Ph.D. and 14 M.S. students. During her career, she has published approximately 100 refereed articles and has been issued eight patents.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen is a recipient of the National Science Foundation Presidential Young Investigator Award, the DuPont Young Faculty Award, the 2008 American Society for Engineering Education (ASEE) Sharon Keillor Award, and the 2008 Council of Chemical Research (CCR) Diversity Award. She also received the Faculty Leadership Award from Georgia Tech in 1995 and the Packaging Research Center Educator of the Year Award in 2000. She is a Fellow of the Society of Plastics Engineers and is a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, the American Chemical Society, the Electrochemical Society and the American Society for Engineering Education.

Dr. Bidstrup Allen is married to Mark G. Allen, a professor in the School of Electrical and Computer Engineering at Georgia Tech. They have two children, David and Sarah.

SENIOR ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR
8th Year at Georgia Tech
Maryland (1969)
PAUL GRIFFIN

Paul Griffin, formerly the Director of Athletics at Arkansas State University and the University of South Florida, begins his eighth year as Senior Associate Director of Athletics at Georgia Tech.

Griffin is responsible for the Athletic Association operational aspects of football and men's basketball. Other departments which report to Griffin includes sports medicine, player performance, facilities and game operations.

Previously a member of the Tech staff as Special Consultant to the Director of Athletics from July-December, 2001, Griffin assisted with Tech's efforts in hosting the 2002 and 2007 NCAA Men's Basketball Final Four.

Griffin, 62, spent 15 years as Director of Athletics at South Florida (1986-2001), where he was instrumental in the university's charter membership in Conference USA. He was also responsible for developing the plan which initiated South Florida's football program in NCAA Division I-AA and then readied the program for its move to Division I-A in 2001.

Honored as the 1999 Southeast Region Athletics Director of the Year for Division I-AA/I-AAA by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics, Griffin represented Conference USA on the NCAA Championships Cabinet. He was subsequently appointed to the subcommittee for football certification, which certifies bowl games and preseason events.

Prior to South Florida, Griffin served five years (1981-86) as Director of Athletics at Jacksonville (Fla.) University. He spent nine years (1972-81) at Roanoke (Va.) College, including the last four years (1977-81) as Director of Athletics. He also served as the lacrosse coach throughout his nine-year tenure at Roanoke.

Griffin earned a bachelor's degree in education from the University of Maryland in 1969 and added a master's degree in education from Long Island University (C.W. Post Center) in 1973.

A native of Baldwin (N.Y.), Griffin and wife, Maureen, have one son, Michael.

ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC DIRECTOR/PUBLIC RELATIONS
4th Year at Georgia Tech
Florida State (1979)
WAYNE HOGAN

With 33 years of experience in intercollegiate athletics, 10 as a Division I athletic director, Wayne Hogan has been Associate Athletic Director at Georgia Tech since August, 2006.

Hogan was hired by Georgia Tech Athletics Director Dan Radakovich to oversee the communications and public affairs component of Yellow Jacket Athletics, including oversight of media relations, marketing, sales, video services and television and radio. He also serves as the department's liaison with Georgia Tech Sports Properties, the department's multi-media rights-holder. Hogan serves as the athletic director's top advisor in all external matters at Georgia Tech. In addition, he has day-to-day oversight of the Institute's baseball program.

Hogan, 53, previously spent two years in the private sector, serving as Vice President for Collegiate Properties with Virtu Development Group, a national sports marketing firm with wide-ranging relationships in college and professional sports. During that time he was based in Tampa, Fla.

Hogan has had a stellar career as a collegiate administrator. He was athletic director at the University of Montana from 1995-2004. His accomplishments did not go unnoticed across America, as he was named Division 1-AA West Region AD of the Year by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) in 2003. He also served as President of the 1-AA Athletic Directors Association and Chair of the NCAA's prestigious 1-AA Football Committee in 2004.

Hogan's leadership style and his "sky's the limit" expectations have been gleaned from his 33-year association with successful college programs, coaches and administrators. In all that time, Hogan has known nothing but victories and championships. Hogan has had an uncanny run of working with successful football programs. At four different schools, Hogan has been a part of 359 Division I football games with a record of 273-81-5. He has been a part of three national championships, 17 bowl appearances and his teams have been in post-season play in 25 consecutive seasons.

His nine-year stint at Montana included two football National Championships and more than a dozen conference titles in both men's and women's sports.

Hogan cut his teeth on a 17-year association with Florida State University. He played an integral role in that program's rise to one of the nation's premier athletic programs. In true "rags-to-riches" form, Hogan's first job at FSU was that of an unpaid student intern in 1975. Twenty years later he became the school's interim athletics director, overseeing 15 sports and a $28 million budget.

During most of his Florida State tenure, Hogan was responsible for all external affairs – sports information, marketing, promotions and broadcasting. He was charged with negotiating and maintaining the school's radio and television relationships.

Hogan received a Bachelor's Degree in Communication from Florida State in 1979 and worked briefly with two minor league baseball teams as a broadcaster and public relations specialist. He spent one year with the Houston Astros AAA farm club before moving to Albuquerque and a one-year stint with the Los Angeles Dodgers AAA affiliate. While in Albuquerque, Hogan was coaxed back into collegiate athletics, becoming assistant sports information and marketing director at the University of New Mexico. He returned to Florida State in 1982 as the school's sports information director.

Wayne is married to the former Dawn Dewberry of Treasure Island, Fla., and they have three children: Lindsay, 27, Kelly, 24 and J.P. 17.

2008: Young Jackets Stun The Experts

JOHNSON LEADS TECH TO 9-4 MARK, BOWL GAME, TOP 25 NATIONAL RANKING

Projected to struggle in Paul Johnson's first season at Georgia Tech, the youthful Yellow Jackets flourished in 2008, finishing 9-4 overall and 5-3 in the balanced ACC.

Johnson inherited a roster low in scholarship numbers – well below the NCAA maximum of 85 – and overloaded with freshmen and sophomores. There were 76 freshmen and sophomores on the roster and 16 of them were starting the last month of the season.

Johnson and his staff successfully installed new schemes. Equally important, the first-year Yellow Jacket head coach worked to change attitudes, create a team atmosphere and increase overall toughness.

The team bought in, but the "experts" weren't sold. Sports Illustrated projected Georgia Tech to finish 3-9 overall and 1-7 and in last place in the ACC. Even the ACC media predicted the Yellow Jackets to finish fourth in the ACC's Coastal Division. The pundits questioned if Johnson's option-based spread offense would work on the BCS level – even though Johnson's Navy teams led the nation in rushing three straight years against BCS competition.

It didn't take long for perceptions to change.

Georgia Tech, after a season-opening win over Jacksonville State, defeated Boston College, the defending ACC Atlantic Division champion, 19-16 on the road. After a heart-breaking three-point loss at Virginia Tech, the Yellow Jackets rolled past Mississippi State and Duke by a combined score of 65-7. Following a scare from Gardner-Webb, Tech won on the road at Clemson (21-17).

After a disappointing Homecoming loss to Virginia, Tech rebounded with a thrilling 31-28 win over 16th-ranked Florida State. A loss to North Carolina foiled the Jackets' chances of winning the Coastal Division outright, but Tech rebounded with a resounding 41-23 over No. 23 Miami. Nine days later, Tech overcame a 16-point (28-12) deficit to beat No. 13 Georgia, 45-42 in Athens, snapping a seven-year skid against the Bulldogs.

More highlights from 2008:

- ▶ Johnson was named the ACC Coach of the Year.
- ▶ Tech earned its 12th consecutive bowl bid, losing to LSU (38-3) in the Chick-fil-A Bowl.

- ▶ The Yellow Jackets finished 22nd in both the Associated Press and USA Today Coaches polls. The last time Tech was ranked in the final AP poll came in 2001. Georgia Tech finished 14th in the final BCS standings, which came out prior to the bowl season.

- ▶ Georgia Tech played four consecutive nationally-ranked opponents in November, compiling a 3-1 record (wins over #16 Florida State, #23 Miami and #13 Georgia and a loss at #19 North Carolina). It was the first time Tech defeated three nationally-ranked opponents in one season since 1998. Tech's win at Georgia was its first win on the road against a ranked team since Sept. 30, 2006.

- ▶ According to Sports Illustrated, Georgia Tech was one of college football's biggest surprise teams in 2008, winning six more games than what the publication predicted.

- ▶ Three Georgia Tech opponents were ranked in the final national polls – Georgia (13th), Virginia Tech (15th) and Florida State (21st). Seven of Georgia Tech's 10 FBS opponents played in bowl games.

- ▶ An NCAA record 10 Atlantic Coast Conference teams participated in postseason bowls.

- ▶ Georgia Tech led the ACC and ranked fourth nationally in rushing (273.2 ypg).

- ▶ The Jackets led the ACC in total offense (372.5 ypg) and produced more than 300 yards of total offense in a game nine times.

- ▶ Tech scored 40 or more points in a game three times, including twice against nationally-ranked opponents (Miami and Georgia).

- ▶ Tech's average of 273.2 rushing yards per game was the fourth-highest in school history and the highest since 1977. It was also the fifth-highest average in ACC history and the highest since Clemson averaged 277.6 yards in 1988.

- ▶ Georgia Tech produced 67 plays of 20 yards or more, including 10 plays that went for 50 yards or more. Twenty of the Jackets' 38 offensive touchdowns were scored on plays of 20 yards or more.

- ▶ Eight Tech TDs came on plays of 50 yards or more. Only one team in the FBS (Louisiana-Lafayette) had more touchdown plays of 50-plus yards.

- ▶ Tech had an 88-yard run (the longest rush in school history), an 88-yard pass play (the third-longest pass in Tech history), an 85-yard run (fourth-longest run in Tech history), a 79-yard pass (the 12th-longest pass in Tech history) and a 66-yard TD run.

- ▶ The Jackets had 23 touchdown drives of three minutes or less, 16 of two minutes or less and 21 of five plays or less.

- ▶ Tech finished '08 ranked in the top 30 nationally in eight different defensive statistical categories.

- ▶ Georgia Tech recorded 18 interceptions in 2008 to tie for 15th nationally. The previous season, in 2007, the Jackets had just five interceptions.

Tech 222, Cumberland 0

MOST LOPSIDED GAME EVER CAME IN ATLANTA IN 1916

The most lopsided game of all time happened in Atlanta on Oct. 7, 1916.

The previous spring, Cumberland's baseball team had trounced Tech, 22-0. Cumberland University was located in Lebanon, Tenn., and the Cumberland squad was actually comprised of professional players from nearby Nashville. Georgia Tech head coach John Heisman was not amused, and the Tech students and alumni howled for revenge, so Heisman offered the Bulldogs a $500 guarantee to come to Atlanta for a football game.

In the game, Tech scored 32 touchdowns, averaged 3.8 points per minute, carried the ball for 978 yards, and never threw a pass. Cumberland, since it was losing yardage faster than it was gaining real estate, began to kick the football back to the Jackets immediately after Tech kicked off to them.

Amazingly, neither team made a first down in the game because Tech scored within four downs on every possession. All-America Everett Strupper led Tech with six touchdowns.

Wrong Way Riegels

MOST STUNNING PLAY IN ROSE BOWL HISTORY

The most stunning single play in the history of the Rose Bowl propelled Georgia Tech to its first bowl victory when Roy Riegels' infamous Wrong Way Run turned out right as the Rambling Wreck beat California, 8-7, in the 1929 Rose Bowl.

Early in the second quarter, with the score tied 0-0, Tech halfback Stumpy Thomason was hit by the Golden Bears' Benny Lom. He fumbled around the Tech 35-yard line, and Riegels scooped up the bouncing ball. For Riegels, a center and captain of his Golden Bear team, fate had sent him running free and clear. He got a good block from a teammate, slipped off a tackler and spun around. But something was wrong.

"Stop, Roy! You're running the wrong way," yelled Lom. Riegels thought the speedier Lom was asking for a lateral. At the 10-yard line, Lom grabbed Riegels, but Riegels shook him loose. Finally, at the one-yard line, Lom pulled Riegels down, but not before a 64-yard run into immortality.

California still had the ball. On the first play, the Golden Bears attempted to punt the ball out of the end zone with Riegels snapping to Lom. However, the left side of the California line collapsed and Tech's Vance Maree blocked the punt, which rolled out of bounds for a safety.

Those two points turned out to be the winning points as both teams traded touchdowns in the second half, and the Rambling Wreck eventually prevailed, 8-7, in one of the strangest games ever played. Tech's Rose Bowl win capped a perfect 10-0 season, the first undefeated season for head coach William Alexander, and the Rambling Wreck captured its second national title.

NCAA Rushing Record

EDDIE LEE IVERY'S 356 YARDS SETS NCAA RECORD

On a day (Nov. 11, 1978) when ice skates would have been more appropriate footwear than cleated shoes and when an agitated stomach threatened his very presence in Georgia Tech's lineup, tailback Eddie Lee Ivery made college football history.

On 26 rushes, Eddie Lee Ivery gained 356 yards, more yards in a single game than any other major college back ever, on a field that required de-snowing by a street sweeper twice before the game. In fact, the field was made even more treacherous by 20-degree temperatures augmented by a 20 mph wind (making the chill factor zero degrees) which turned the Falcon Stadium turf into a frozen tundra.

Complicating Ivery's plight was his stomach. After a nifty reversal of direction, which resulted in a 73-yard touchdown run early in the second quarter giving Tech a 14-0 advantage, Ivery could be seen on the sidelines doubled over at the waist, vomiting and in obvious pain.

At halftime, Ivery had 122 yards on 12 carries, but his status for the second half was very much in doubt.

An 80-yard touchdown run with 6:08 left in the third quarter gave Ivery 240 yards and broke Brent Cunningham's school record of 217 yards set in 1970 against Clemson.

With 10:25 left in the game, Ivery scored on a 57-yard run, giving him 309 yards. Besides giving Tech a 35-21 lead against a team that obviously was not going to surrender without a fight, it put Ivery within 41 yards of the NCAA single game record of 350 yards set by Michigan State's Eric Allen against Purdue in 1971.

When an Air Force drive fizzled at Tech's eight-yard line on an incomplete pass, Rodgers told the team he'd let Ivery run the ball until he got the record. Ivery crashed over right tackle for 13 yards, leaving him just 28 yards short of the record. A run around right end gained another 13. Only 15 to go. Adding to the drama, Ivery's stomach began to churn again at that point, to the extent he had to leave the game.

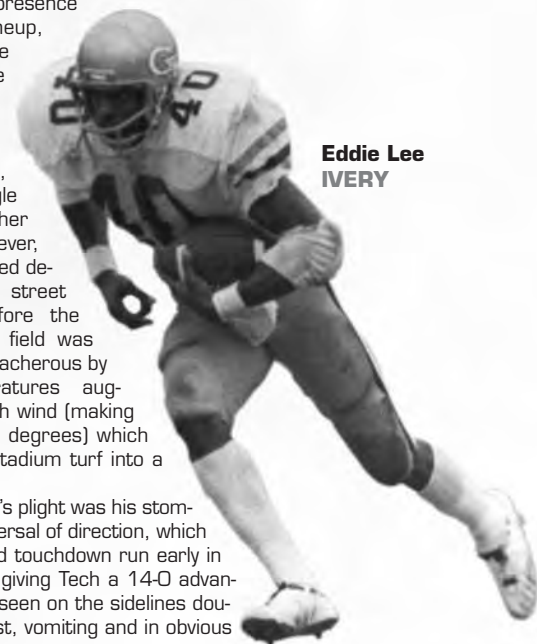

His replacement, Ray Friday, shocked everyone by bolting 66 yards straight up the middle for his second touchdown of the day.

More than six minutes remained when Tech kicked off to Air Force with a 42-21 lead, plenty of time to retrieve the ball and let Ivery get the record.

The chance came when linebacker Henry Johnson intercepted a pass at the Air Force 41-yard line.

Ivery trotted back onto the field and rushed 21 yards with his first carry, giving him the record.

Retired Jersey #19

Clint Castleberry, RB

Lettered 1942, Killed in World War II

The only retired jersey in Georgia Tech's storied football history is the No. 19 worn by running back Clint Castleberry in 1942. Though just a freshman, he finished third in the Heisman Trophy voting as he led Tech to a 9-2 record, highlighted by historic victories at Notre Dame and Navy and capped by a berth in the Cotton Bowl. Just weeks later, he enlisted in the U.S. Army, and on Nov. 7, 1944, his plane disappeared.

For one fleeting season in 1942, Clint Castleberry blazed across the football field like a 'crazed jackrabbit.' Some said he could have been the greatest Tech player in history, if it weren't for World War II and a plane that disappeared off the West African coast without a trace.

He flashed across the fields at Notre Dame and Navy that fall of '42, leading Georgia Tech's shocking onslaughts, while Sir Bernard Montgomery flashed across North Africa in pursuit of Erwin Rommel, and the Russians made their goal-line stand at Stalingrad.

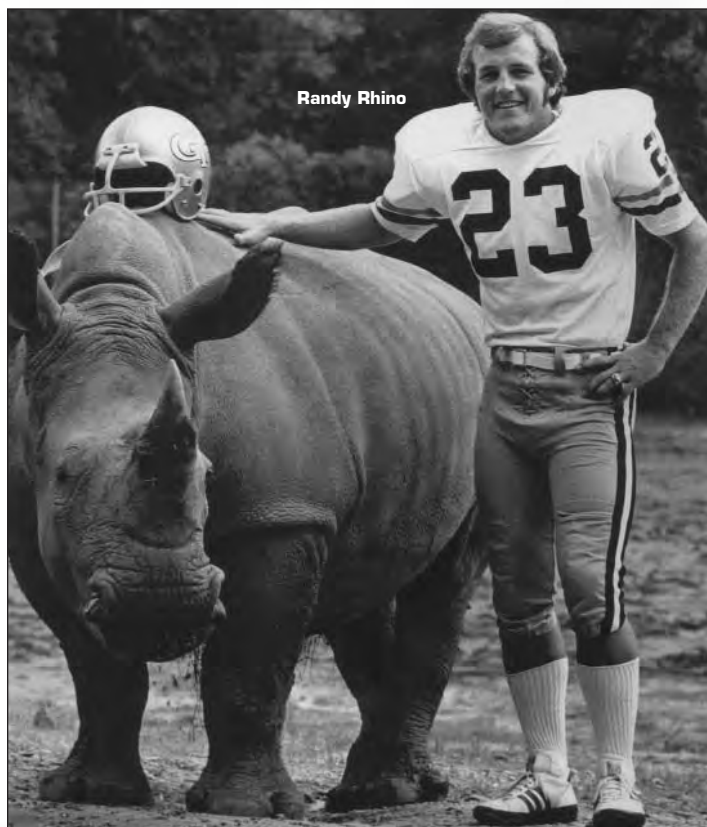

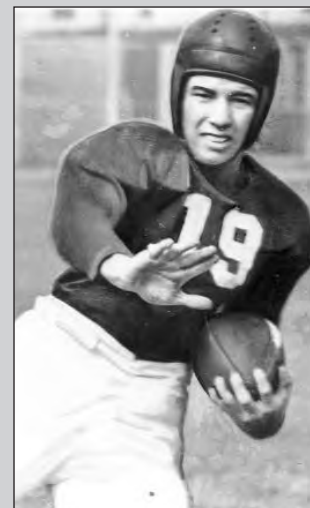

He had played only one college football game when Notre Dame scout Wayne Millner warned coach Frank Leahy that "the most dangerous runner in America" would invade South Bend.

As a freshman, he finished third in the Heisman Trophy balloting.

And then he was gone.

CoSIDA Academic All-America Hall of Fame Wade Mitchell

Inducted in 1996

The Verizon Academic All-America Hall of Fame recognizes former Academic All-America student-athletes who graduated at least 10 years ago and have gone on to great success after athletics. Wade Mitchell became the first Georgia Tech graduate to be inducted in 1996. An Academic All-America in 1955, the former standout quarterback and safety went on to become a prominent Atlanta banking executive.

Paul Johnson is the 12th full-time football coach in Georgia Tech history. Prior to 1904, when John Heisman became the school's first permanent head coach, the team was "coached" by professors, interested townspeople or one of the players.

Professor Ernest E. West, a Naval College graduate, directed Tech's first football team in 1892. In 1893 and '94, the squad was coached by volunteers Frank O. Spain, a Mathematics professor, and Lt. Leonard Wood (who later became famous as the colonel in command of Roosevelt's Rough Riders and as Governor General of Cuba), then stationed at Ft. McPherson in Atlanta. The rules were rather lax in those days, so Spain and Wood also played on the team.

The next volunteer coach of record was R.B. "Cow" Nalley in 1898, "Mr. Collier" in 1899, Dr. Cyrus W. Strickler in 1901, and John McKee in 1902.

JOHN HEISMAN, 1904-1919

- College Football Hall of Fame
- Tech's first full-time head coach
- The first paid coach in the country with a salary of $2,250 plus 30 percent of the gate
- Led Georgia Tech to its first national title in 1917 with a 9-0 record
- Coached the most-lopsided game in history in Georgia Tech's 222-0 thrashing of Cumberland on Oct. 7, 1916
- Coached at Oberlin College, Buchtel (later Akron), Auburn and Clemson before coming to Tech; moved to Penn, Washington & Jefferson and then Rice after leaving Atlanta
- Served as Director of Athletics for the Downtown Athletic Club in New York from 1926 until his death in 1936

WILLIAM ALEXANDER, 1920-1944

- Member of College Football Hall of Fame
- Led Tech to 1928 national title, which was capped by a victory in the 1929 Rose Bowl
- Guided Tech to eight conference titles and coached eight all-America players
- 1942 National Coach of the Year (AFCA)
- Spent his entire career at Georgia Tech, also serving as an assistant coach (1912-19) and athletics director (1920-50)

BOBBY DODD, 1945-1966

- Member of College Football Hall of Fame as a player and as a coach
- Guided Tech to a 31-game winning streak from 1951-53, including a perfect 12-0 season and national title in 1952
- Posted a 9-4 record in bowl games, including eight straight wins
- Enjoyed a 57-year career at Tech as assistant coach (1931-44), head coach, athletic director (1950-76) and alumni association consultant until his death at age 79 on June 21, 1988
